Guard Honors Awarded to Local Firms

Service Awards were presented Tuesday to a number of local firms and organizations for their constant support of the local National Guard Unit. The presentation was made by Brig. Gen. Emmett A. Rink of the 40th Armored Division, at a breakfast meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, on September 18.

Those receiving the awards were: Torrance Press, Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Torrance Herald.

Local firms receiving the award were: General Petroleum, Harvey Machine, and Longren Aircraft.

NATIONAL GUARD AWARDS

Among those receiving certificates of merit from the California National Guard for support given to the local unit were General Petroleum and Harvey Aluminum. Accepting the awards presented by Brig. Gen. Emmett Rink, 40th Armored Division, are A. E. Thompson (r), manager, GP Torrance refinery; and Herbert Harvey, vice president, Harvey Aluminum.

County Fair All Set For Gala Opening

Under the banner "A Pageant of Progress," the 29th annual Los Angeles County Fair was poised today on the threshold of its gala premier at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Culminating a year of intensive planning and preparation, the multi-million dollar exposition is geared to greet well over a million visitors before it closes at midnight, September 30.

Likened to a mighty show window, the 450-acre park with its 200 permanent buildings, dramatizes agricultural, industrial and cultural achievement in literally miles of exhibits and displays of infinite variety and appeal. From Siskiyou on the north to San Diego in the south, more than a hundred counties and communities vie with one another in combining artistry with utility in magnificent creations to set forth their county.

Because of its magnitude and ramifications, the fair is divided into twenty major divisions, each a creditable show in itself. One can gain an idea of its diversity from a quick glance at the major classifications.

Agriculture and horticulture presents man's mastery over nature in prize products of orchard, field and garden. A glorious symphony of color greets the eye in the magnificent floral building. The cream of the flocks and herds are in the livestock show.

500 Boys Attend YMCA Camp

Al Turner, chairman of the Camp Committee for the Torrance YMCA, reported today that over 500 boys from this area attended the several YMCA camps during the vacation months. This was the largest group in the history of the local association.

Turner stated that building improvements have kept pace with the rapid growth in program during the summer months, with two sanitary units being built by Torrance citizens at Camp Round Meadow, the Y building being painted on the outside, extensive modernization of the office, kitchen facilities, and the construction of club rooms for the use of twenty youth groups a week.

During the summer months, Indian Guides, ages 6 to 9, grew in strength and size and are planning a huge Father and Son Overnight Camp for October 6 and 7 at Camp Little Green Valley.

The older boys are planning to serve pancakes and sausages at the Annual Good Neighbor Breakfast on October 27, as well as enjoy their YMCA football leagues.

Turner pointed out that all boys are welcome in the YMCA program and the staff is active in forming new YMCA clubs in all schools to which it is invited by local P-T-A groups.

Saxon ... High ... Lights

By BONNIE WILLIAMS

The second annual Big Top Howdy Hop sponsored by the Student Council was attended by a very large crowd last Friday night at the Alondra park gym.

Disc Jockey Earl McDaniels and his secretary were guest celebrities and Jane Holmes appeared as the mystery clown.

Four of the latest record albums were awarded to Pat Webb and Eddie McNamara and Sue Yapez and Jim Blotti for their dancing ability.

The main purpose of this dance was to get everyone acquainted. The largest representation seemed to be from the new freshman class.

SAVE - SAVE - SAVE

Did you know that you can save $19 by purchasing a student body and activity card for only four dollars?

By adding up the total cost of all your football and basketball games, your track meets and dances sponsored by the Student Council you would spend $24, without an ASB and activity card.

The ASB card by itself entitles you to reduced rates to all of these activities and twenty-five cents off on your annual. The ASZ card and the activity card entitles you to free admission to these activities and fifty cents off on your annual.

The ASB card is available without your activity but you must have an ASB card to purchase your activity card. Both are on sale for only four dollars for the next few weeks at the high school.

Snoopin' Around

Adrienne Balkman was hostess at a back to school party last Saturday evening. This party offered swimming, dancing, games and a special pantomime by Ronnie Montelious and Mary Smithart.

Pauline Herbauer and Don Adamson are going steady now. Don graduated from North high last year.

PV Players Schedule Workshops

Something new has been added to the Palos Verdes Players. At 7:30 p.m., Thursday, September 20, the first in a series of informative workshops will be held at the Malaga Cove school, Palos Verdes. All members, prospective members, and outsiders interested in learning more about the theater are urged to attend.

Under the direction of Ken Sutton, veteran Broadway stage actor and "Best Actor" award winner for his Player performance last spring in "Joan of Lorraine," the first two meetings will deal with acting technique, diction and orientation for the forthcoming comedy, "Goodbye My Fancy."

Future workshops will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month.

Meeting and production dates for the Palos Verdes Players are as follows:

September 20, workshop; September 25, workshop; September 27, 28, casting for "Goodbye My Fancy"; October 1, next general meeting; November 29, 30, Dec. 1, production of "Goodbye My Fancy."

Boy Scouts Enjoy Outing Expedition

The Boy Scout Troop 209 of Nativity Catholic church have recently returned from a delightful eight day vacation in the big horn section of Lake Arrowhead.

Under the competent guidance of Scoutmasters Wertz and Venezia, the boys had a wonderful time in this camping paradise, which was especially reserved for the boy scouts.

Aside from a few cuts and bruises the boys came through their mountain adventure in good stead. They were even required to do all their own cooking.

Nature hikes, axmanship, fire building, swimming, fishing and boating made the boys forget all about having to return to school.

Father Glynn paid the boys a surprise visit and he was delighted with the surroundings himself.

"It was a successful trip and was fully enjoyed by the boys," according to Bob Wertz.

Chest Drive Committeemen Set Campaign

Torrance Commerce and Industry chairman, Jack Schmidt, and committeemen for the forthcoming Community Chest campaign held a kick-off session Wednesday noon at The Palms in Torrance.

Schmidt pointed out the important work of the Community Chest emphasizing the Chest's 168 Red Feather agencies.

Following introduction of individual committeemen, the group had a premiere showing of the film, "These Hands Are Yours," depicting the various Community Chest Agency Services.

Schmidt also pointed out, "that the Community Chest is the American way of doing things, committees of people working for others."

Committeemen accepting responsibility for the Torrance area C & I drive are: Kenneth Figlins, Wallace Haas, William Johnson, Russ Lund, John Melville, Cal Newell and Daniel Ryan. Also Edward Dalton, George Foster, Joe Burley, Bruce Franklin, Sam Levy, Ralph Morse, King Williams, Paul Burnham and Dick Jensen.

COMMUNITY SWIMMING

El Camino college will open its swimming facilities to the community each Friday from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., President Forest G. Murdock announced today.

No charge will be made for use of the new pools, President Murdock said. Residents of the community will be required to furnish their own towels, however, he elaborated. Minimum age limit for the recreational swimming program is 18 years.

KIWANIANS FETE OFFICERS

The Kiwanis club of Walteria held a luncheon in honor of their newly elected officers for the 1957 year.

Those who were elected to office were: President, Charles Scott; first Vice-President, Fred Stevens; second Vice-President, Dr. Hampton and Treasurer, Carroll Calhoun.

The new board of directors will consist of Jack Sakavye, Tom Jones, Richard Miller, Roy Roberts, Roy Bayer, Marvin Brown, assisted by the newly elected officers.

CONGRESS PRAISED BY KING

The Democratic 84th Congress was the most productive in history, passing more bills than any other Congress, states Congressman Cecil R. King in his regular "Your Congressman Reports" sent to the people of the 174th District.

In the eight-page report King hails the accomplishments of the session as "a constructive, substantial record of achievement."

King details his major accomplishments in the 84th Congress as: enactment of Social Security amendments, lowering of eligibility age for women, lower age for disability payments and increase in payments to the blind, disabled and aged; measures which strengthened enforcement of Federal narcotic laws; passage of his legislation referred to as the model workman's compensation bill; and numerous measures in behalf of the fishing industry, schools, veterans affairs, small business, shipping, harbors, natural resources and postal and federal workers.

Crain Given PR Position

John G. L. Crain of North Torrance is now associated with Traffic Associates inc. in Los Angeles as director of public relations. Traffic Associates is a management consulting firm. Crain is on the Airport Commission, vice president of the North Torrance Civic Improvement Association, and a member of the L. A. Transportation club and ICC Practitioners association.

SHOP IN TORRANCE

The all-out shop in Torrance campaign undertaken by the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce is evident everywhere—including on city buses. Looking over the huge sign painted on the side of Torrance buses are Charles Gotts, president of the merchant's group, and Bus Superintendent Marshall Chamberlain.
