Patricia Davie and Thomas McAnany Wedding Rites Performed In Inglewood

The Little Church Around the Corner, Inglewood, was beautifully decorated with baskets of white stock and pink gladioli when Patricia Jo Ann Davie, Torrance, exchanged wedding vows with Thomas Michael McAnany, Los Angeles on November 18 at 2 p.m.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Williams, 1616 W. 219th st., and D. J. Davie, was escorted to the altar by her father who recently arrived for the ceremonies from Estacada, Oregon.

Her gown, exquisitely designed by the bride, herself, and made by her mother, was fashioned of chantilly lace over bridal satin. The full gathered lace skirt had ruffles in the back starting at the waistline, and flowing into a chapel length train. The long sleeved fitted bodice was accented by cutouts of lace trimmed in iridescent sequins outlining the circular neck. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a Juliet cap of lace over satin and trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with a removable orchid corsage.

Mrs. Rosie Deems, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of turquoise lace over taffeta fashioned after the bride's gown.

Bridesmaids, Suzanne Stewart and Linda McAnany (sister of the groom), Evelyn Arsenault, and the flower girl, Vicki Deems, the bride's niece, wore dresses similar to the Matron of Honor's in coral (bridesmaids) and turquoise (flower girl).

Little Gregg Deems, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer and Stanley Stewart carried out best man duties during the double ring ceremony. Reverend Hugh D. Morgan officiated.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Williams, chose a black lace creation over pink satin for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a dress of brown lace over a robin's egg blue satin.

Don Saenz, Kenneth Duke, and Roy Harmar ushered the guests to their seats.

After a reception at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip McAnany, 11511 S. Menlo ave., Los Angeles, the couple left for a honeymoon in Palm Springs. The bride attended Torrance high school and is employed at Pacific Mutual Life Insurance co. The groom, a graduate of Washington high school, Los Angeles, is employed with the Union Pacific railroad.

Those present at the party were Mmes. Irene Conant, Evelyn Kucher, president; Lucille Thiers, Pearl Miller, Marge Baker, Gladys Mosher, Ruth Powell, Betty Miller, Dickie Barnett, Margaret Kelly, John Oriani, Avis Edmisten, Myrtle Detherage, Marie Catron, Phyllis Hall, and the hostess, Mrs. Jenkins.

Practice for this event was held in the Crenshaw Elementary school cafeteria December 12 with Girl Scout Carolyn Peterson leading. The caroling was arranged by the Junior Planning board which is a group composed of representatives from each older Intermediate and Junior High Girl Scout troop in the area.

NEW MEADOW PARK SCHOOL TO OPEN SOON

"Strengthening the Community with Faith," was the theme of the December 12 meeting of the Meadow Park school PTA. This meeting will long be remembered because the new Meadow Park school will open of January 2—a project over which everyone has been concerned and find now, at Christmas time, that their faith has been rewarded.

The principal expressed his thanks to the parents for the cooperation they have given him during the years before completion of the new school.
