

Look, these prices are hot enough to break the cold spell

Did you ever stop to realize what a lucky lot we Westerners are? Those poor people in the East have to put up with all that bad weather and don't even have a fabulous Food Giant Market nearby to bring a little cheer and economy into their lives. They could keep warm just by taking advantage of the F.G.'s hot prices, if they had an F.G., that is. If word of the Food Giants ever reaches the East Coast there will probably be the biggest migration West since the days of the Gold Rush. Maybe you'd better hurry over to your F.G. right now and take advantage of these specials before it gets too crowded to shop.
