

Educational Exhibit Set At El Camino

Tentative plans for an educational exhibit by the industrial arts department of El Camino college on May 10, 11, and 12 were announced today by Theodore A. Thomas, heading the committee on arrangements. Following the plan of last year, most of the exhibits will be located in the Campus Center for the convenience of guests, though some of the laboratory rooms and shops will be open for inspection by the public.

Thomas, drafting instructor and counselor, reports that present plans include displays of drawings by the drafting classes and demonstrations and tests by the electronic and radio department. In addition to the art of upholstering furniture, the upholstery classes will feature an exhibit on the repair and construction of furniture.

Mrs. Jessie Lewis of cosmetology announces that open house will be held in the cosmetology department in addition to a small display in the Campus Center.

According to James P. Butler, instructor in the body and fender shop, this department will have a display of cars on the street in front of the Campus Center.

Other instructional departments at El Camino will also have exhibits in the Campus Center or in their own departments. Details of these presentations have not yet been completed.

Marine Reserve Program Will Change April 1

Local Marine Corps representatives have announced that effective April 1, the organized Marine Corps Reserve can no longer accept enlistments under the present three-year enlistment program.

The outgoing three-year program allows young men to enlist for three years in the organized Marine Corps Reserve (Ready Reserve) and thereby diminish the total military obligation by attending regular drills.

In addition, reservists have the prerogative of electing the branch of service to transfer into, in the event they decide to switch to active duty.

The most attractive feature of the three-year program was the fact that a young man could be reducing his total military obligation by attending drills, while at the same time accumulating longevity for pay purposes.

After April 1, enlistments can only be effected for a six or eight year period with two years to be spent on active duty, or six months to be spent on active duty immediately following high school graduation.

Young men in the 17-18½ year old age group are encouraged to reexamine their military plans and to check listing under the outgoing three year enlistment program.

Information may be obtained by visiting the 5th Communications Company, Marine Corps Reserve, during any weekday or during the evening on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday. This marine reserve unit is located at 524 Seaside ave. on Terminal Island, or call Terminal 2-0869.
