CLASSES PLANNED FOR EXPECTANT MOTHERS TODAY

Planning for the new baby is the subject to be discussed at the first of the expectant parents' classes starting Thursday, June 13 at 1 p.m. in the Torrance Health center, 2300 Carson st., according to Dr. B. A. Kogan, District Health officer.

Educational materials offered to prospective mothers in the care of herself before the baby arrives and the care of the new infant. Information given is educational in nature and does not in any way take the place of early and regular prenatal medical attention by physicians, the Health Officer said.

Subjects to be discussed include layette needs, health during pregnancy, nutrition, baby's growth, formula preparation, and baby bath technique. Motion pictures will also be shown at several of the sessions. Dr. Kogan said. The film, "Human Growth" is scheduled for the first class.

Miss Janice Hopkins, who has served as public health nurse-instructor in the past, will continue in the assignment.

The classes will be held every Thursday at 1 p.m., and prospective mothers are invited.
