BANK TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING CEREMONIES

First Western Bank and Trust Company will mark the opening of its Hawthorne-Coast Highway office in the Torrance Shopping center October 4 with ribbon-cutting ceremony scheduled for 9:45 a.m., Manager Victor B. Youmans announced today. The event will be attended by Torrance civic officials and representatives from First Western's Los Angeles headquarters.

"Residents of the area are extended a cordial invitation to visit our new banking facilities. An all-day open house from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. will be held on our first day of business operations to acquaint the community with the banking service we offer."

Regular business hours for the office, located at 24002 Hawthorne blvd., will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday, with operation extended to 6 p.m. on Fridays, Mr. Youmans said.

The office will offer seven teller windows, and will be equipped with the latest-design commercial teller machines to facilitate transactions at peak periods. The officers' platform will accommodate four desks. Banking fixtures of West Coast mahogany have been trimmed in black Formica, and the banking room has been treated with acoustical material for customer and employee comfort. Fluorescent lighting has been installed. Two entrances to the bank will be provided to the off-street parking area available for bank customers.

GATEWAY TO A THOUSAND PRODUCTS

Anti-freeze and bug-killers, Dynel fibers and polyethylene plastic—these are just a few of the thousands of products that have their beginnings in pipelines going into CARBIDE's seven major plants.

CARBIDE takes natural gases and refinery gases that flow through these pipes, heats them, chills them, squeezes and expands them—and turns them into more than 400 chemicals. Some of the chemicals you've probably never heard of; they may have names like 2-ethylbutyraldehyde or mono-isopropanolamine.

The important thing is that these chemicals are used by almost every industry in America. This means job security and good incomes for the people of CARBIDE, a continued return for the men and women who have invested their savings in Union Carbide Corporation—and thousands of better products for you.
