Religious Liberty Day Observed

"Guided missiles and military might are not the only threats to liberty," Pastor Glenn L. Goffar of the Seventh-day Adventist church said in observance of Religious Liberty Day. "Great dangers also lie in a lackadaisical attitude toward the aggressive approach of well-meaning groups who seek to control the spiritual life of men."

The minister referred specifically to the attempted enforcement of Sunday observance, which has become a prominent issue in many sections of the country. He declared that the enforced observance of a day not considered sacred by many violates the fundamental laws of human rights.

Pastor Goffar said he most certainly did not condone the breaking of the Sabbath. The enforcement of Sabbath observance, however, he pointed out, particularly when there is some disagreement as to which day is the Sabbath, is not up to the state. It is purely a matter between a man and his Maker.

"It is good to concern ourselves with the spiritual well-being of our brother," the pastor said, but he is not helped one whit by having religion thrust upon him."

Juvenile Delinquency Is EVERYBODY'S PROBLEM

We hope that this page will serve as an "OPEN FORUM" for the people of our communities. We are inviting you to write letters which will be published on this page. The alarming rise in juvenile delinquency can be stemmed. So let us talk it over through the columns of this paper. Just sit down and write a letter. What is your idea? We all love these youngsters. What can we do to help straighten them out before they become involved.

This is your "OPEN FORUM"

The opinions expressed in the letter and editorials are not necessarily the opinion of the Torrance Press nor of the sponsors who have made this page possible.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF THE FBI: WARNING TO U. S. TEEN-AGERS

Don't invite trouble! Here are 10 rules that every parent should make sure his youngster knows

- 1. If any stranger — or even a slight acquaintance — makes improper advances, tell your parents immediately.
- 2. If you know of any pornographic pictures or literature being passed around, notify your parents immediately.
- 3. Obscene Reading matter is a favorite habit of the degenerates. If the authorities can run down the source and trace the material, they may be able to rid the community of danger before it starts.
- 4. Don't ask for trouble — dress sensibly.
- 5. Provocative clothing may attract the attention of a potential sexual criminal.
- 6. Be civil to strangers who ask directions, but never go part way with them.
- 7. The "directions" trick is a favorite among sex criminals. They count on the natural helpfulness of young people.
- 8. Be very careful about accepting work from a stranger.
- 9. This is another insidious dodge. Always make sure that the person is a respectable business man.
- 10. Don't go about the house half-dressed.

IS YOUR HOUSE A HOME?

We residents of Torrance, by nationwide comparison, can consider ourselves fortunate, in that most of our homes do not fall in the housing project category and that our community is relatively free of the blight of slums. Study of these two conditions by the Senate's Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee pointed out that these two factors substantially increased the incidence of juvenile delinquency. Here in Torrance we have homes with grass in the yard, easy to reach public playgrounds and parks, a new community swimming pool, and many civic minded groups who contribute their time and money to juvenile projects such as Boy and Girl Scouts, Little Leagues, Y.M.C.A., etc.

Yet in spite of this favorable picture of our city, we do still have juvenile delinquency. Why? First, it is erroneous thinking of picture our playgrounds and parks as safe havens for the young. The fact is that juvenile is strictly on his own. This gets down to the roots of the problem. Today's parents are victims of a social pattern and the children of such a family are its secondary victims. This situation exists in every level of society and is no respecter of wealth, race or creed. So today's children who are the products of the "I" oriented parents do not have the help they could get from parents who should be family-centered, they tend to be mixed-up instead of part of a tightly knit family group, and have lost, as sociologists put it, "role and status."

Since it is possible to recognize one of our failures in handling the juvenile problems, is there a substitute for the loss of a closely knit family? Yes, but a poor one, the help of people trained as psychologists, psychiatrists, and sociologists. These people can offer a measure of untangling our children's mixed emotion and help teach them "to build." Torrance at present has very meager facilities to offer in this field, but as a part of Los Angeles County, funds and assistance are available and it should be one of our goals in this fine community to see that our children have a "HOME" to live in, a God to worship, ample recreational facilities, and the help of people trained in the constructive development of young minds. H. G. Stephens, chairman, Public Relations Committee, Kiwanis Club of Torrance
