

Smog Fight Help Asked By Kuchel

U. S. Senator Thomas H. Kuchel of California today urged widespread participation by both industry and government in a scheduled conference on air pollution to be held under the sponsorship of the U.S. Public Health Service later this year.

In a speech to the Senate renewing his campaign for concerted action to end "smog", Senator Kuchel related that much progress has been registered in tracking down and controlling sources of pollutants but stated more aggressive efforts must be made to complete removal of "aerial sewage" from the atmosphere of America's metropolitan areas.

Recalling that he sponsored the five-year law under which Federal agencies are assisting in the campaign against smog, Kuchel declared that air pollution is a product of the Nation's growth and increasing motorization and industrialization. He cited authorities which have warned that unless prompt steps are taken to control pollution sources the damage and inconvenience will increase greatly and many cities now are on the "threshold" of serious smog conditions.

Crenshaw Girl Scout Troop 2022

Intermediate troop No. 2022 (Girl Scouts) are working toward their second class badges. One of their major requirements is an overnight camp-out which the girls recently fulfilled by a weekend at Hillcrest Park in Fullerton.

There are 21 girls in the troop attending Edison and Crenshaw schools. The troop is broken down into three patrols. Sandra Soth is in charge of Rose patrol, Ellen Cobb, the Sioux patrol and Karen Peterson the Blue Jay patrol. Each patrol, led by its leader, took turns in cooking meals for the group. They learned trail signs, hiked, cooked indoors and out. Mrs. Sara Bramlett leader of the troop and Mrs. Marie Johnson co-leader of troop No. 600 are also licensed campers and first aiders. They chaperoned the Scouts with the aid of some of the girls' mothers; Mrs. Marion Hacker and Mrs. Alice Schneider. Girls attending camping trip: Barbara Brigham, Sandra Bramlett, Ellen Cobb, Sandra Caton, Kathleen Cox, Sinda Hall, Suzanne Hammonds, Cynthia Lessel, Emily Mendoza, Laura Martinez, Dorinda Morgan, Vickie Van Natta, Karen Peterson, Billie Marie Rathbun, Marilyn Schneider, Donna Stephenson, Diane Stephenson, Susan Strommen, Sandra Soth, Gale Tripp, Nicola Potts, and Wanda Johnson, troop 600.

Insurance Firm Offers Family Plan

Torrance residents will be offered a new kind of protection designed to provide life insurance for the entire family. It was announced today by Arthur Canoles, Torrance Manager of Beneficial Standard Life Insurance Company.

The new "Family Life Plan" is one policy, with one premium, that covers every member of the family. Children born after the policy is taken out are covered automatically with no increase in the premium. The plan allows up to $7500 permanent life insurance on the husband, and $2000 on the wife, and $1000 on each child.

"This new package has been created to make life insurance cheaper by the family, for its cost is only slightly more than for the husband alone. The policy has been particularly designed to fit in with our "Family Hospital Plan," whose sales, for the second consecutive year have surpassed all hospital and medical expense policies offered by life insurance companies in the state of California," Canoles said.

ART PIECES AT MUSEUM

An exhibit of 147 objects of craftsmanship opens at the Los Angeles County Museum February 5.

The Jury-selected items to be displayed include jewelry, silver-smithing, ceramics, woven and silk screen fabrics, mosaics, wood accessories, enamel, book-binding, glass, tile and iron. Co-sponsoring the exhibit with the museum is the Southern California Designer Craftsmen.

More than 850 items were submitted by craftsmen within a 125 mile radius of Los Angeles. Those selected to be displayed involve the work of 49 craftsmen from Los Angeles; 23 from Southern California; and 18 from the north.
