Don't Vote

J. A. Beasley

... until you have studied the qualifications of the candidates ... we are confident then that one of your votes will be for J. A. "Jay" Beasley, candidate for the Torrance City Council.

He is undoubtedly the most civic experienced Council candidate on the ballot, bar none! J. A. Beasley knows, understands, and can intelligently discuss all of Torrance's problems ... and ... is not afraid to face civic issues.

Former Torrance Teacher Receives Doctor's Degree

Louis J. King, 37, assistant supervisor of child welfare and attendance for the Los Angeles City Schools, has passed his final oral examinations for the Doctor of Education degree at the University of Southern California.

King received his A.B. from UCLA in 1943 and his Master of Social Work degree from SC in 1951. His dissertation is on "Activity Group Therapy with Three Groups of Selected Elementary School Children."

Before being appointed to his present position in 1956, King taught for two years as a secondary teacher and counselor in the Torrance City Schools.

Motorists should not weave from one lane to another like a skier in a slalom, says the Automobile Club of Southern California. Such weaving in and out of traffic increases the risk of collision with other cars. Competent drivers choose their lane with care, and move from it only when they are sure they can do so without endangering others.
