Applications for Extended Jobless Benefits Now Accepted by Local Office

Persons who wish to file claims for federal temporary unemployment compensation were asked today by Mrs. Winok Ellis, manager of the Torrance office of the Department of Employment, to bring documents which relate to their exhausted unemployment insurance claims with them when they come to the office.

Mrs. Ellis said the identification card issued to the claimant on his old claim, the notice of unemployment insurance award which he received, and any other papers the claimant received during the life of the claim he exhausted would be very helpful in expediting establishment of a claim for extended benefits.

The Torrance office began taking California claims under the new federal legislation Monday, and it is expected payments to eligible claimants will begin during the week of July 21. Any person who has exhausted his regular California unemployment insurance claim, or benefits under federal laws which provide unemployment compensation for veterans or federal employees since July 1, 1957, and is unemployed on July 7, may file a claim for extended benefits. To receive benefits, a claimant must meet all the eligibility requirements of the California Unemployment Insurance Code. Under California's agreement with the Federal Government, no benefits can be paid for any week of unemployment which occurred prior to July 7, or prior to the filing of a claim. The effective date of coverage in other participating states varies in accordance with their agreements with the Federal Government.

Teacher Takes Course for Lions' Sightless Program

A Torrance elementary teacher is taking a special six-week course in the techniques of teaching children with impaired vision under a $200 scholarship provided by the Torrance Lions Club.

Mrs. Martha Jensen, a Steele School teacher last year, is taking the course at San Francisco State College, preparing to teach the partially-sighted youngsters in Torrance next year. She is taking classes in structure and function of the eye, principles and methods of teaching partially-sighted children, and principles of Braille education of the blind. She will return about Aug. 1.

Blind and sight conservation work is one of the major projects of Lions Clubs and the local club donated the scholarship upon learning that there is a great shortage of teachers for the children with impaired vision. During the past year, the club also paid for eye examinations and glasses for 60 children, purchased a Braille writer, and paid the hospital bill for a child's eye surgery.

A teacher here for three years, Mrs. Jensen indicated interest in teaching the partially-sighted if she could obtain the necessary schooling.
