

Arts and Craft Course for Boys Girls to Begin

Children 6 through 8 years old will gather at 9 a.m. and this group through 15 years will meet at 10:30 a.m. The groups will meet at the Arts and Crafts Center, 1511 Cravens Ave.

Letters to The Editor

Sept. 29, 1958

Dear Editor
Once more county officials and the representatives are giving taxpayers the "run around" or is it they are too involved in red tape or politics to do the necessary things?
At 247th St. and Walnut, Mr. E. C. Jones has been promised a driveway to replace one taken out by subdividers who were given permission to regrade Walnut to drain water from the subdivision down Walnut to Lomita Blvd.
The street dirt was used by the subdividers. A cut of 43 inches was made at this point, although Mr. Jones has told it was to be 18 inches. A must have a retaining wall in before it rains or he may lose his garage and fireplace.
To date no one has attempted to put back the driveway. Probably because it would not be usable as too steep. The Jones have already lost one tall pipe from their car going up the bank to their garage.
The road department promised Assemblyman Vincent Thomas and State Senator Richard Richard's secretary to correct the situation. Mr. Winters, Supervisor, Chaco's assistant says it will be fixed, but to date his promised call to verify plans and date to start work has not come to either the Jones or my associate, Mr. Newton, were not available Friday either at their Torrance City Hall office or Redondo Beach. Why?
This same thing has happened before. Will this sort of thing continue? How much more "pushing around" will home owners take?
We are asking for just treatment and before rains set in.

Hermosa Players Rehearse Shaw's 'Don Juan in Hell'

Saturday night's performance of Hermosa Players "The Lady's Not For Burning" ended a run of thirteen weekends at Hermosa Beach Playhouse. The players are already in rehearsal for George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" with a cast including Patrick O'Moore, Michele Madsenne, Thomas McBride, and Charles Gray.
Readings are scheduled for October 6, 7, and 8 at the Playhouse. To be auditioned are William Saroyan's "The Cave Dwellers," Bertold Brecht's "The Good Woman of Setzuan," and possibly Aristophanes' "Lysistrata."
A contract was recently signed by the Playhouse with Gitanos Films, to bring a color film on bull fighting to the South Bay area. Jerry Brown, young American bull fighter, will describe his own training and experiences, and explain the various techniques of such greats as Manolete, Dominguin, and Aruzza, all of whom will be shown in the film.
Performances will be given on four consecutive Saturdays, beginning October 4. They will include a matinee as well as two evening shows at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Parents who drive children to school and let them out in the middle of the block are making a dangerous mistake. The Greater Los Angeles Safety Council says they are not only endangering the lives of the children, but they are also setting an example which will affect the future safety habits of their children.
The "Back to School" safety campaign in the Los Angeles metropolitan area is sponsored jointly by the Los Angeles City Schools, 10th and 31st Districts, PTA, and the Automobile Club of Southern California in cooperation with the Greater Los Angeles Safety Council.
