

Comic Opera to Be Staged by Colene Dec. 5

"The Marriage of Figaro," a comic opera by Mozart, will open Dec. 3, at 8:30 p.m. in the El Camino College Campus Theater. It will be repeated Dec. 5, and 6, at the same curtain time.

"Figaro" is generally considered the most popular of all operas, and is the oldest to be active year after year in every major opera company.

A sequel to "The Barber of Seville," "The Marriage of Figaro" was written in 1778 as a drama by Pierre Beaumarchais. Like all of the author's works, "Figaro" was written as a slap at aristocracy.

Louis XVI refused to license the drama for production because of its dangerous character. Music for the El Camino production is played by staff accompanist, Miss Kay Haga, Dr. Charles Haag, Edmund Majera and Jack Vaughn.

The stage-craft crew built the original sets, which were designed by Robert Click, assisted by Charles Turner and Don Ferguson.
