

H.S. Students to Take Math Class in ECC Program

Four students from Torrance high schools will attend El Camino College math and science classes in a pilot study of providing extra training and advanced study for top students.

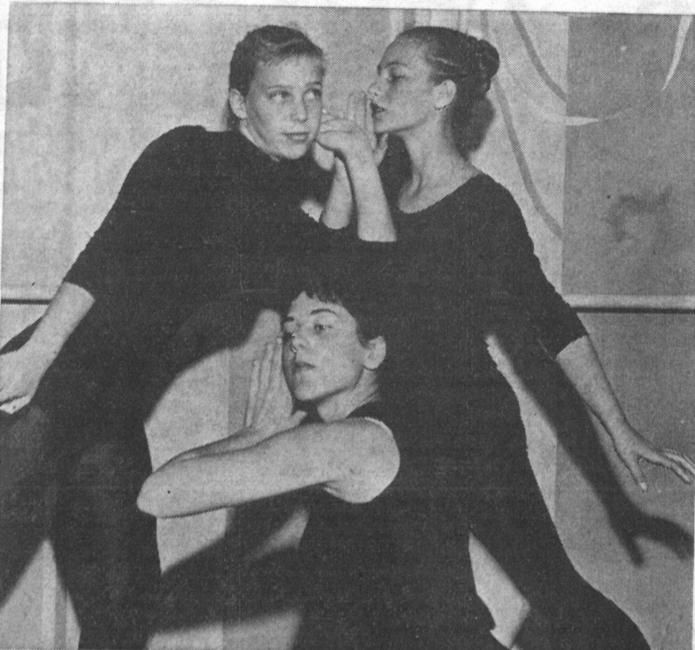

The quartet—Clarence Fuzak and James Wilson North High, and Margaret Diane Hinshaw and Ann Tucker, Torrance High, will attend classes at their high schools most of the day, but will take a late afternoon or evening course at El Camino. All four rank very high scholastically.

Although the plan has been tried in other areas, the Torrance Unified School District is first in this area to go into the program.

If the program proves successful, it may be expanded for a larger group of students, Assistant Superintendent Albert Posner said.

Children's Party Given by Elks

Torrance children are invited to a Christmas party at the Elks Lodge, 1651 Carson St. Saturday at 1 p.m.

Movies and cartoons will be shown and Santa will distribute gifts and candy to all.

The Elks have purchased 500 presents to make the party a success.

Y to Sponsor Trip to Snow

Eager boys 6-12 years old are looking forward to the Snow Moon Fun Club sponsored by the Torrance YMCA on Jan. 2-3.

On Friday they will spend a day in the snow, travelling by bus to the Mt. Waterman area. Here the boys will go sledding, tobogganing, and of course make snow men. On Saturday each boy will be given a book of tickets to use at the exciting new Pacific Ocean Park. Neptune's Kingdom, the Enchanted Forest, a Flight to Mars, a South Sea Island, and the Fisherman's Cove are just a few of the wonderful treats in store for all of those attending.

The Snow Moon Fun Club is just one of the many Christmas Vacation programs planned for the youth in the greater Torrance area. For further information contact the YMCA, 2080 Washington Ave., FA 8-1272.
