

Annual Potluck Dinner Sees Scouts Winning Many Awards

The annual pot luck dinner given each year by the Mother's Club of Troop 753 and 753 Boy Scouts was held at the Elks Hall Jan. 19.

Mmes. Roy Dohner and Ollie Wierenga were in charge of the menu.

Following the dinner a program was presented by David McVey, David Beck, Rod Dohner and Terry Miller.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of Merit Point gifts by Scoutmaster Glenn Blake and Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Meese.

Official Scout Flash Cameras were given Senior Patrol leaders Wade Freedman and Norman Wagner for earning the most points.

Others receiving gift awards were: Jerry Blake and Maurie Dohner, camp lanterns; Fred MacKenzie, Gene Meese, Alfred Wierenga and Bob Richardson, crystal radio kits; Dennis Dohner, field glasses; Chris Prescott, stamp book and David Capps, canteen.

All the rest of the Scouts received Official Scout Tooth Brushes. The gifts were furnished by the Scout Mother's Club of Troop 753.

A special award of a Bronze Medal was given Explorer Ken MacKenzie by Scoutmaster Blake in appreciation of his work during the year.

A court of honor was held and awards given the following Scouts: Lawrence Andicochea, William Ament, Murle Brown, Michael Ferrier, Scott Reading, Tenderfoot; William Russell, Mark Woodruff, Second Class; Gerald Richardson, First Class; Merit Badges, David Capps, Two; Bobby Hiromoto, One; Gerald Richardson, Eight; Bob Richardson, Thirteen; Steve Walton, One; and Al Wierenga, Two.

Nursery care will be provided. "ELKS-A-POPPIN" A musical revue titled "Elks-A-Poppin" will be presented to the public Feb. 26 and 28 by Elks Lodge 1948 of Torrance. The cast will be made up of more than 100 Elk members.

The House of Rummage, San Pedro will serve as the meeting place for members of the Bay-Harbor Osteopathic Hospital Guild and Members of the BHOH Auxiliary Feb. 11 when they get together to set up a joint rummage sale for Feb. 12 and 13.

Auxiliary Ways and Means Chairman, William Kimpel, may be contacted in Torrance for collections.

The next meeting of the Guild will be held at the Hacienda Hotel on Feb. 16. Mmes. Joseph Ribarich and Frank V. Lane are in charge of luncheon reservations.

A businessmen's luncheon will be given by the Guild on March 17 at Ulabrand Hall, San Pedro. Mrs. W. J. Shepard is general chairman of the event.

Dr. Clarke B. Walsworth was guest speaker at the January meeting of the guild. During the business session, Feb. 19 was set for a Tea and Home Tour to be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rados, 2209 Daldier Dr., San Pedro.

Designed by Richard Neutra, the home is considered to be one of the outstanding examples of contemporary architecture in the southland. Tickets for the tea and tour are available from Guild and Auxiliary members.

The Altrusa Club is looking around Torrance for an old house it might buy.

Plans for a "welcome house," to provide temporary quarters for strangers arriving in town are being discussed, members agreeing that the first impression of any city can be quite bleak if there is no place to stay.

The club feels that the building could also be used for community get-togethers, and would almost pay its own way.

Sculpturer Exhibits... Torrance sculpturer, Mark White will exhibit his works at the Waterfront Exodus Art Gallery in San Pedro this month along with an exhibition of watercolors and drawings by Pasadena artist Hilda Levy.

Patio Fund Party

The Y-Wives of the Torrance YWCA invite all interested persons to join them at a card party.

Frances Dimitri, Robert Bernard Exchange Vows

A wedding of wide social interest was performed recently when Frances Dimitri and Robert J. Bernard were married at the home of family friends, Judge Floyd B. Mullendore of Malibu, Feb. 6 at 8 p.m.

The bride, owner of the Frances Real Estate Offices, established here in 1951, wore a beige, raw silk sheath topped with a mink stole. Her cap was of handmade lace purchased during her trip to Venice last year. Accessories of white gloves and green suede shoes completed her ensemble. The wedding was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kirkpatrick, friends of the bride and groom.

Following their marriage the newlyweds dined at the Sports Club restaurant, Malibu, with the Mullendores and Kirkpatrick, before leaving for a week-end honeymoon in Palm Springs.

Bernard formerly of Glendale is a salesman for the Commerce Oil Co. of Los Angeles.

The couple are now at home at 2276 Torrance Blvd.
