Dr. Ali N. Fassa

Iranian Doctor Tells Impression of Visit Here

Torrance students have a lot more freedom than those in Iran.

That was the impression formed by Dr. Ali Naghi Fassa, retired Teheran physician and government official during a visit here with his son, Fred Fassa, an oil company engineer of 240 Calle de Madrid.

"I like your climate most particularly," said Dr. Fassa who as traveled extensively throughout California.

The president of the Academy of Asia admired the equipment used in instruction of Torrance students. He also pointed out that schools are much stricter in his native land.

Dr. Fassa, a former army colonel, speaks seven languages and has a vital interest to see as much as possible during his six months visit.

Now 74, he has been retired from active service with his government for 13 years, but is still interested in welfare work, particularly in the fields of cancer, tuberculosis and leprosy.

He came here as delegate from the Teheran Lions Club, of which he is vice president, and attended the international convention in Chicago. On Tuesday he addressed the Torrance Lions Club on Iran.

His French born wife, Emille is accompanying him on the tour.

Kenny's in First Loss as Opening Round Finished

Kenny Shoe Repair suffered its first loss of the season Monday evening when Wright Answerphone came up with a 19-point fourth quarter for a come-from-behind, 50-42 win as the Torrance Recreation Dept.'s Open Basketball League closed out its first round of play.

As a result of the win, Wright pulled even with Kenny's with a 4-1 record at the top of the standings.

In other games at Narbonne High gym last week, Ware's Plumbing defeated General Petroleum, 57-36, and General Telephone knocked off Corso's Candleroom in a thriller, 45-41.

Ware's Bill Clark took high scoring honors for the night with 28 after plucking through 12 field goals and four free throws. In the same game, Petroleum's Bob Corlett, connecting 11 long missiles and with two free shots, scored 24 to take runner-up scoring honors.

A three-way tie exists for third place, with Wright, Petroleum and Ware's knotted at 2-3, while Corso's is in the cellar with 1-4 rating.

"I'LL PROBABLY RUN," Governor Pat Brown told college delegates to the California Newspaper Publishers' Convention in San Francisco Saturday. The Governor explained that he anticipates being nominated for the U. S. presidency in Los Angeles as a "favorite son." Interviewing him is El Camino College journalism major Janice Mills of Torrance.
