

Seek Fare Raise

The California Public Utilities Commission had under submission today an application of the Cross Town Suburban Bus Lines to increase its fares on its Sunset Stages Division, operating between South Bay Communities and Inglewood.

The company is seeking to raise the present minimum fare from 12 to 15 cents and to charge an additional five cents for each zone traveled.

Additions Due at Ten City Elementary Schools

Ten Torrance elementary schools are in line for more facilities soon, as the Board of Education Friday night let bids for additions to five schools and approved preliminary plans for additions at five others.

A $568,000 bid by the A. H. Dohrman Co. for additions at Waleria, Edison, Steele, Madrona, and Torrance Elementary Schools was approved, subject to approval of the State Department of Finance. Preliminary plans for additions at Anza, Arlington, Lincoln, and Newton Schools were given a green light, with officials hoping to let bids for these next summer.

The state must approve the $568,000 bid, which was slightly higher than expected on certain site work needed for the addition. The state allocated funds for the projects. Construction will start when state approval is received.

Plans call for four classrooms each at Edison, Steele, and Madrona Schools. Madrona also will get a music room. Waleria School will get seven classrooms, shop and homemaking unit, and addition to the administration building. A cafeteria unit is scheduled at Torrance Elementary School.

On the second group of additions, final plans must be drawn. Construction probably will start next summer. In this group, four classrooms each are slated at Anza, Arlington, Lincoln, Newton, and Sepulveda Schools.

'Kiss Me Kate' Production Set at El Camino

Tales of Shakespeare and music of Cole Porter will be merged as El Camino College presents its annual spring musical "Kiss Me, Kate" next May.

With the libretto written by Samuel and Bella Spewak, the production draws upon scenes of "Taming of the Shrew." On Broadway it made a record-breaking run of 1,070 performances before it was made into a successful motion picture.

Three college instructors will share in the direction of the spring production. Dr. R. Gordon Orme, who presented the college's first operatic production last fall, will direct vocal activities. Burnett Ferguson, who has staged most recent dramatic presentations on campus, will direct the dramatic aspects of the musical, and Instructor Calvin Greer will lead orchestration.

Production dates are May 7, 8, 9 and 14, 15 and 16.
