Letters to
 The Editor

The Editor:
 May I take the privilege of making a suggestion to your newspaper about some particular reporting. Right now the articles about Arbor Day and National Tree Planting Week have brought it quite strongly to my attention. In the majority of write-ups and pictures of the tree planting ceremonies, no mention is made of the type of tree being planted. I think it would be of much benefit to your readers if a special point could be made to include the popular, even if not botanical name. Having recently participated in a neighborhood tree planting project, I found out quite definitely that few local people know what trees will do well in our local area. Many persons are from the East and are acquainted with trees that cannot be grown satisfactorily here. Would it not help most of the new home owners to see the trees recommended by the park department and nurserymen specified by name?—Sincerely, Mrs. Geo. J. Shaw, 24014 Janet Lane, Torrance.
