Evening Adult Classes to Resume with Full Program After Vacation

Classes for adults in the Torrance Evening High School will resume after the Easter vacation March 30. Although the new semester does not begin until September, new students may enroll in most classes at this time. There are openings in both shorthand and typing classes. The late afternoon typing class will include instruction in cutting stencils, using the mimeograph, and 10-key adding machines. Typing and shorthand tests are given each evening which will aid those working toward civil service promotions. Other classes in which new or former students enroll include: machine shop, woodshop, cake decorating, dressmaking, psychology, public speaking, mathematics, English, English for Foreign Born, ceramics, lampshade making, knitting, development of personality, and appearance, and participation classes in child observation and cooperative nursery.

For information concerning these classes telephone the Adult Education office, FA 8-2272, Ext. 295 (afternoons, FA 8-9206 (evenings). The General Educational Development (GED) tests are given to both veterans and non-veterans as partial credit toward obtaining high school diplomas. Persons without a high school diploma will find it worth the time and effort to consult a counselor in the Adult Education office Monday through Thursday, 12:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m.; 6-9 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
