

THEIR OWN ISLAND—While they are making their own island, members of Scott Gray's seventh and eighth grade classes at Steele School are also planning a government for it. The youngsters are studying various forms of government and are choosing the "best" for their own class project. Shown are Marsha Miller, Glen Garrod, and Darrel Moon, laying out the streets and buildings for their island.

Students Shape Own World in Study of Government

As part of their study of government, seventh and eighth graders at Steele Elementary School are making—and re-making—the world to suit themselves. Scott Gray's class has decided to secede from the humdrum world and is laying out an imaginary island. They studied various forms of government to determine the best kind. Their choice of governments? One similar to that of the United States. Torrance is under study in Philip Korman's class, which is comparing the functions of local government with those of county, state and national governments. A new city is being born in Al Phelps' class, which sought the best form of city government possible. Their choice? A city manager type, similar to that of Torrance.

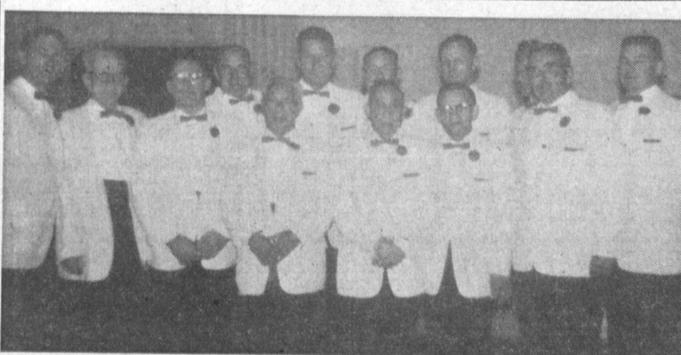

Close of PTA Workshop Series Is Announced

Last of a series of six parent-school education workshops for members of Lomita-San Pedro Council of PTA's was held this week at Crestwood School. Mrs. Eleanor Kennedy, chairman, introduced Mrs. Grace Dreier, who spoke on discipline in the home. Mrs. Dreier's talk was one of her last following 46 years as a Los Angeles school teacher and administrator. She has been speaking in recent years as assistant superintendent of elementary schools in the South District of the Los Angeles system. A previous workshop, this month, dealt with an overview of the guidance program in elementary schools. Mrs. Helen Danielson, speaker, was followed by a panel of Harbor principals with Mrs. Amanda Wilhelm of Halldale as moderator. The panel consisted of John Roeder, Greenwood; Elizabeth Dancy, Point Fermin; Mrs. Dorothy Hesson, 15th St. School; Miss May Haslam, Cabrillo Ave., and Larry Miller of Barton Hill.

Mrs. Gonderman Installed as PTA President

Mrs. James Gonderman was installed by Mrs. Francis Anania as president of 223rd St. School at recent ceremonies held in the school auditorium. Mrs. Anania, past president of 223rd St. School PTA, is the president of the Lomita-San Pedro council. Other officers installed were Mmes. Virgil Johnson, first vice president; Hampton Carroll, second vice president; Robert Brown, secretary; Donald King, treasurer; Frank Perkins, secretary; Carl Epperheimer, parliamentarian, and Paul Kelso, auditor. The program for the evening featured youth activities. Cub Pack 755C performed with their kitchen band led by den mother Miriam Qualls and Cub Scout Darly Blankinship did an impression of Elvis Presley.

Den mothers present were Mmes. Charles Copeland, Bill DeGroat, Roy Bravick, Donald Guild and Marge Wiley. A skit on safety was given by Rowena Thompson, leader of Girl Scout Troop 1569. Dances from Hawaii, Japan and Mexico were presented by Browni Troops 1506 and 1577. Their leaders are Mmes. Ralph Wareing and Robert Brown.

Girls Win Offices

Eighth grader Cynthia Hanny was elected student body president of Seaside Elementary School Tuesday following a spirited campaign. She nosed out John Nauman for the top office. Girls also swept four of the other five top offices. Don Rogers, new vice-president, was the only boy chosen. Also chosen were Linda Gunn, secretary; Sherry Hale, treasurer; Rosanne Wood, sergeant-at-arms; and Anita Bakove. All candidates were introduced at an assembly Friday.
