George Post Named Manager of California Bank Here

George W. Post was appointed to succeed Arthur O. Otsea as manager of California Bank's Torrance Office, Frank L. King, president, has announced. King further disclosed that Otsea, a vice president of the bank, has been named to head the staff of the bank's large Santa Monica office.

Both men are widely known throughout the community. Post, an assistant cashier of the bank and a member of a pioneer Torrance family, attended Torrance High School and Loyola University. He is also a graduate of the Pacific Coast Banking School at the University of Washington, Seattle, and the American Institute of Banking.

Post began his career in banking with the former Torrance National Bank, which has been founded by his grandfather in 1913. With the merger of the Torrance National and California Bank in May, 1954, Post was named an assistant cashier of California Bank.

Post is a member of a number of civic and charitable organizations. He is currently treasurer of the March of Dimes, a member of the advisory board of the Little Company of Mary Hospital, and a member of the Torrance Rotary Club.

He and Mrs. Post have a daughter, Peggy, age 7, and a son, Rocky, age 6.

Otsea, a native of St. James, Minnesota, has been in banking for more than 35 years. He joined the staff of California Bank in 1941 and was elected a vice president of the bank in 1952. He was assigned to the Torrance Office as a vice president at the time of the merger in 1954.

Among his numerous affiliations Otsea is a member of the board of directors of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce and the Torrance Rotary Club.
