'Spool and Bobbin' Show Fetes Seniors

The annual Spool and Bobbin Fashion Show presented by the Torrance Junior Woman's Club to honor the Senior Woman's Club was held at the Clubhouse yesterday.

Each girl presented a striking picture as she emerged from the large spool, painted light blue and decorated with a large glittering needle.

The tables were decorated in blue with spools and glittering needles resting in clouds of angel hair and topped with artificial white carnations. The programs, faced with paper dolls and swatches of material, served to remind the guests that the girls had sewn their own fashions.

Other decorations included six foot replicas of the paper dolls placed on the drapes of each of the large clubhouse windows.

The musical program presented began with Mrs. Sid Gans, a senior, singing a medley of three numbers accompanied by Mrs. Richard Brundin. The Junior Piper Chorus followed on the program with "Patterns in Song" consisting of "Paper Doll" and "April Showers."

The program was arranged by Mrs. James Van Dyck, music chairman, and directed by Mrs. Allen Hofferber with Mrs. Wade White as accompanist.

The members of the chorus were Mmes. Clifford Trezise, Don Carlson, Hofferber, John Stokley, Robert Evans, Lee Allen, Richard Gazeley, Charles Briner, A. R. Felando, Jr., Van Dyck and White, joined by Mmes. Brundin and Gans.

Presenting fashions from sporty bermudas to dressy after-fives were the following Junior models: Mmes. Edward Alken, Robert Bartz, Charles Bennett, Joseph Boylan, Don Carlson, Lee Clotworthy, Dale Cote, Robert Davis with daughter, Jenny Lynn.

Jack C. Dean and daughter Jill, Robert Eipper, Robert Evans, A. R. Felando, Jr., Douglas Horlander and daughter Suzie, Robert Kerber and daughter Judy, Clayton Lilley and Sandra, Elgin Logsdon and Janet, J. G. Louvier, Jean Montange, D. E. Moore, William Rogers, Robert Schooley and Marshal Leonard Schulwitz and Barbara, John Schwartz and Lisa, R. E. Shaw, John Stokley with daughters, Ruth Ann and Susan, Wade White and Carla, with Cathy Crandall, Sandy Starr and Jeanette Sturgis, all daughters of Junior members. Commentator for the show was Mrs. W. E. Starr.

Fashion Stylist to Aid Swim Style Selection

Worried about looking snappy on the beach following a winter of bulky winter wardrobes?

Miss Carol Powell, fashion stylist for the Rose Marie Reid swimsuits, will lend her expert help in fitting and figure advice when she appears at the Gay Shop, 1319 Sartori Ave., tomorrow from 1 to 5 p.m.

The right swim suit can mean as much or more for figure flattery as choosing the right dress, maintains Miss Powell, who believes there is a bathing suit to make every woman look just as she would like to look on the beach.

Her Rose Marie swimsuits are inner shaped to put every inch in the right place, and shape the figure for summer glamour.

Guests Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wolf, 21804 Halldale, have had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fair of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and Sergeant Albert Ward, U.S.M.C., stationed at Yuma Arizona.

Several lovely dinner parties were given the guests, one at the Gazeley home, 22606 Ocean, one at the home of Mrs. Vertie Grimm, 2814 Halldale and another at Marineland.

Fishing at Rocky Point and a tour of L. A. and Long Beach harbor with a fish fry and an evening of cards was held at the Wolf home on the eve of the guests departure.
