

Golden Wedding Anniversary Set by Rabels

A wedding that began 50 years ago in Hungary will be celebrated here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rabel Sr., 1628 Madrid, who left their native Hungary during the fourth year of their marriage will observe their wedding anniversary with a High Mass service followed by an open house at their home from 3 to 5 p.m.

Monsignor Kerner, a Hungarian priest, from the Redondo Beach St. James parish will officiate at the service at Nativity Catholic Church.

The Rabels came to America in 1913. They first settled in Rankin, later moving to Munhall and then to Elwood, Penn.

Rabel was employed by the National Tube Mill in Elwood for the 28 years the couple lived there.

Following his retirement in 1950 they moved to California where both are active in their hobby of gardening.

Mr. and Mrs. Rabel, 70 and 74 years of age respectively, have five children and 10 grandchildren.

The children are: Joseph, Cleveland, Andrew Jr., Torrance; Michael, Whittier; George, Riverside; and Elizabeth Bauber of New Castle, Penn.

First Arlington Meet

First executive board meeting of the Arlington PTA under leadership of Mrs. Floyd Quattrini, president, was held on May 28 in her home.

Officers for the year, installed by Mrs. Kenneth McVey at the May 14 association meeting, are Mrs. Floyd Quattrini, president; Mrs. Maitland Alexander, first vice-president; Henry Behrens, second vice-president; Mmes. Walter Vess, third vice "WON'T DADDY BE PROUD," whispers little Anne Peavy to her mother, Mrs. Merrill Peavy, sweepstakes award winner at the Riviera Garden Club's first standard show, May 27. Anne, age 3, added to the family honors by taking a first place in the children's category ages 3 to 8.

Ribbons Awarded at 'Moods in May' Show

Highlighting the year for Riviera Garden Club members was their first standard flower show, "Moods in May," presented May 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Speight, 5013 Via El Sereno, with Mrs. Charles Lundquist, chairman.

Sweepstakes winner, Mrs. Merrill Peavy, was awarded four first prizes, one for a horticulture specimen of scarlet wisteria tree, blue ribbons for her theme arrangement utilizing a birch tree branch and figurines, and for her dining room table mass arrangement of red, carnations and silver dollar eucalyptus.

She took top honors in the wood and rock predominating class with a tropical tableau of greenery. Mrs. George Shipway's line arrangement of calla lilies took a first prize in the bulbous category. Mrs. Shipway also placed first in the categories of potted plants and dish gardens and planters.

Other blue ribbon winners were Mmes. Hollis Jewel, oriental, using Chinese lotus, figurine and colored pebbles; Howard Fraze, special occasions, using red bottlebrush blooms, white carnations and blue delphinium, signifying Memorial Day; Robert Kimes, miniature, using a tiny brass shoe arranged with abelia foliage and fuchsia blooms; and Eugene Martin, patio, using a colorful array of fruits.

Not to be outdone by their mother, little Anne Peavy, age 3, and her brother, George, took ribbons in the children's 3 to 8 and 9-15 age groups.

Anne Peavy, the youngest contestant, won her blue ribbon despite the fact that her mother had tried to talk her out of the vase she used. The vase, a Chinese figurine, had been marked for the next rummage sale.

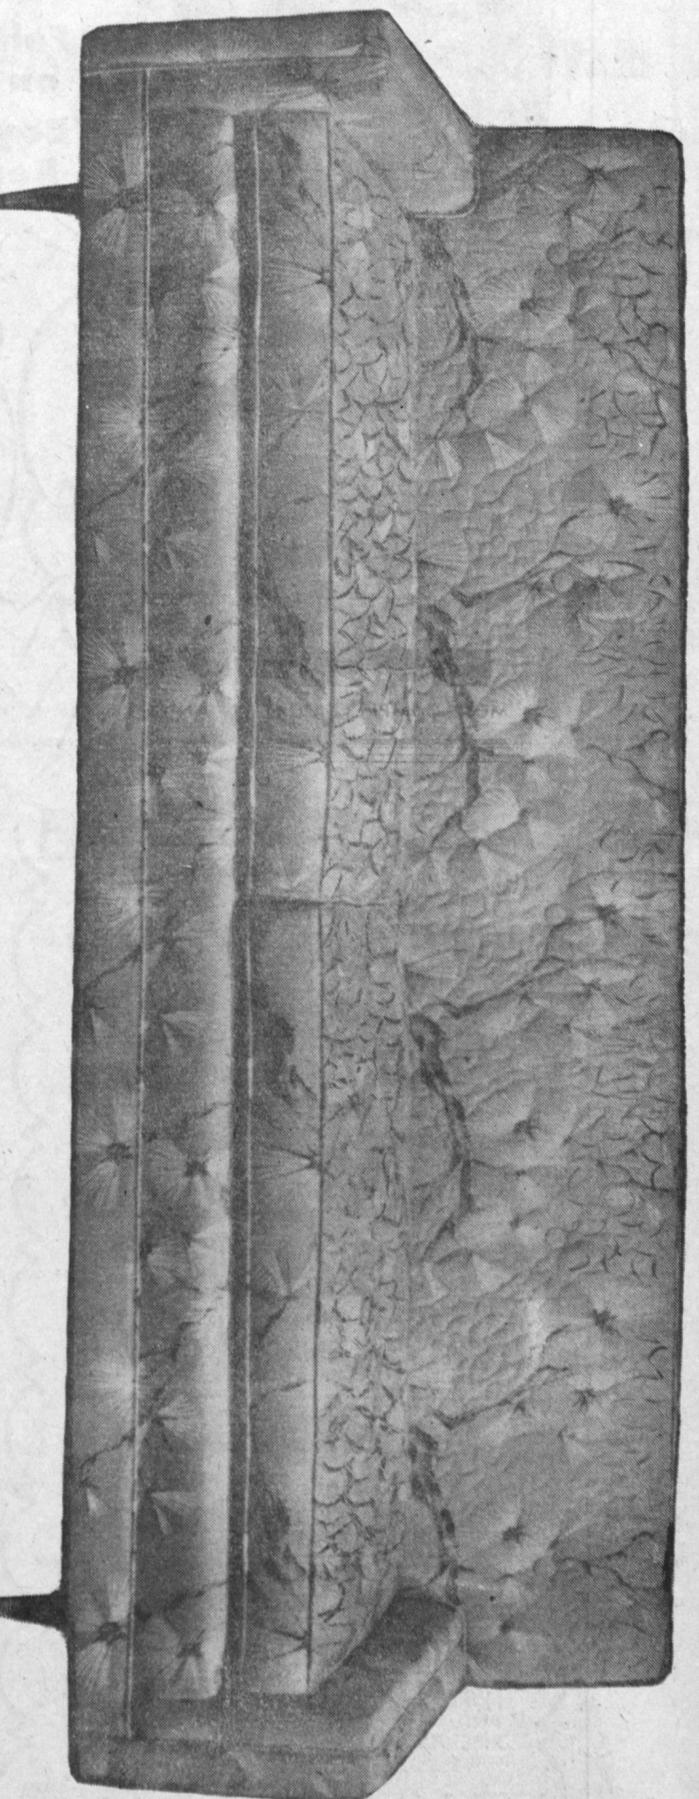

Second and third prizes also were awarded in the 15 show categories, and besides the above winners, ribbons were awarded to Mmes. Charles John, Howard Swarthout, Charles Gleason, Merrill Bickmore, Charles Lundquist, Jack Speight and David Sanders.

Name tags of applied May baskets were worn by the approximately 75 guests who viewed the floral arrangements displayed in the garage of the Speight residence. A reed fence loaned through courtesy of the Walteria Florists and draped in brilliant bougainvillea served as a background for the tables.

The dining room table, which held the mid-morning snacks, was graced with a centerpiece floral arrangement donated by Windsor Florists. The patio served as a natural setting for the outdoor arrangements of fruits, vegetables and flowers. Judges for the show were Mmes. Ralph Lindsey and Thomas de Chambeau.
