

State Department to Receive Hostess Report

A report on the Marina District International Hostessing program has been sent to the State Department and to the American Council on Education, announces Mrs. Reynolds Gorsuch, Marina District Junior's chairman.

Sightseeing tours, dinners and Southern California hospitality were provided for 93 foreign visitors by the six district junior clubs participating in the first year of the program here.

Torrance Junior's received awards for work done in International Hostessing at the State and District conventions.

The program of visitors carried out the theme of the year chosen by Mrs. Robert Lunche, State International Hostess chairman for the California Junior Federation.

Dr. Paul E. Hadley, associate professor of International Relations at the University of Southern California acted as sponsor for the program. The official title is the U. S. Department of Committee of Leaders and Specialists, American Council on Education. Through U. S. C. the Marina District Junior's are, in effect, acting as official hostesses of the State Department.

Guests entertained represented various occupations as: professors, architects, musicians, government officials, writers, journalists and students. All were highly educated but not necessarily wealthy.

The Los Angeles area is the only part of the United States where home hospitality has been offered.

Meets Smog Rule

General Petroleum was credited as being the first major oil company whose gasoline meets new smog regulations a year before they are imposed.

INTRICACIES of laboratory tests in the constant search for product improvement are explained by Richfield Oil Corp. research expert L. J. Grunder, left, to J. W. Begando, station operator at 4000 West Redondo Beach Blvd.,

Torrance. This mass spectrometer measures hydrocarbon components. Begando was among 24 leading Southern California retailers hosted recently in Los Angeles by the oil company for outstanding achievements.

Victoria Knolls Group Protests Street Lights

Several Victoria Knolls residents were threatened with ejection from the council chamber Tuesday when they vociferously protested inclusion in a street lighting district.

Mayor Albert Isen warned them they would be tossed out of the chamber after they continued protests when the City Council closed the hearing.

The Victoria Knolls group objected to street lighting on grounds that the lights will spoil their scenic view as well as the cost.

Councilmen ruled that there
