Ryan Co. Gets Electronics Contract Award

A contract for nearly $3.5 million for installation of Ryan electronic Doppler navigation equipment in the Grumman Mohawk turboprop observation plane has been awarded Ryan Aeronautical Company by the U. S. Army Signal Supply Agency, T. Claude Ryan, president, announced today.

The order assures production of the Model 120A navigation set by the Ryan Electronics Division into the spring of 1960, and follows an earlier $900,000 letter of intent under which the program was started.

Ryan's Model 120A navigator is a small, light-weight, all-weather, self-contained, integrated navigational and flight instrumentation system, particularly suitable to the YAO-1 Mohawk, which is designed to operate from small unimproved fields. The 120A computes and displays ground speed and drift angle on an indicator and, in addition, provides electrical outputs of this data for use in other instrumentation in the aircraft.

The Model 120A is the outgrowth of Ryan's 12-year research and development program in continuous-wave radar, and was preceded by several other models installed in Army aircraft during the last few years.

The Mohawk is the first Army plane to use prop-jet engines (two Lycoming engines of 1005 h.p. each), and is one of America's newest military aircraft. It will be equipped with skis, enabling it to operate from the mud and snow with short take-off and landing capabilities, despite the fact that the YAO-1 is one of the largest (7700 pounds empty) fixed-wing aircraft ever to enter Army service.

Start Constructed

Construction work has begun for the improvement of Feijoa Street, from 254th Street to 255th Street, Lomita area, Supervisor Burton W. Chace announced today.

Bank of America Opening

The Bank of America's 653rd branch, a modern new structure at Hawthorne and Sepulveda Blvd. was opened for business Friday, following an open house party Thursday evening.

Constructed at a cost of $450,000, the structure is of reinforced brick with decorative stone. It has a frontage of 65 feet and a depth of 105 feet.

Customer service is greatly speeded up in the new branch where as many as 22 tellers can work simultaneously behind wicketless, streamlined counters.

The vault door alone weighs four tons and is constructed of drill-proof, heat diffusing steel plates. Bank officials say the vault is as strong as a bomb shelter and affords complete protection to safety deposit boxes.

Ample parking is provided on an adjacent parking lot, according to Vern L. Hughes, manager. He is assisted by Robert A. Wicks and Richard N. Mariucci.

Lomita Ahead in Construction for County Area

The Lomita area led all other unincorporated areas in the 4th Supervisorial District in the number of building permits. Supervisor Burton W. Chace reported today.

June figures completed show that a total of 186 building permits were issued in Lomita for an assessed valuation of $1,337,435. Second in the District was Malibu with 48 permits and a valuation of $442,160.

Other figures released by Chace show 18 permits were issued in Rolling Hills East, eight in Rolling Hills, and two in Avalon.

Building activity a month in the entire County topped June of the previous two years and building volume in the fiscal year ending in June is well ahead of the previous year, Chace noted.
