

GOOD MARKS!—Both in the classrom and on his bicycle, this boy knows good marks when he sees them. Vacation ends today and Torrance youngsters are going back to school. The 9-year-old boy marking his bike with reflector tape is one of many who will share the road with motor vehicles. He is making it easier for local motorists to keep him safe.

TORRANCE TO CANADA.—The world's largest drill collar, manufactured at the Torrance Plant of the National Supply Co., has just been put to its first test in a derrick at Marble Mountain, Canada. The collar's main section is 36 feet long, and two subs are 10 feet. Rere men on the project, which is located about 40 miles north of Calgary, Alberta, mark the first successful drilling of a 600-foot hole. The Torrance plant produced the giant collar from an ingot of high-alloy steel melted in its electric furnace.

Rev. Mitchell Returns Home

Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Mitchell, pastors of the Lomita Church of God, recently returned from their vacation to take up their church duties again. Their vacation took them into the mountains of Northern California where Rev. Mitchell visited his mother. They returned home by way of Oakland, where they attended the World Missions Convention of the Church of God at the Oakland Municipal Auditorium. Delegates from the United States and seven foreign mission stations attended. Rev. Mitchell was welcomed home with a surprise birthday party given by the members of his congregation. NIT Sets Registration Registration for fall classes at the Northrop Institute of Technology will be held from Sept. 21 through 25, President James McKinley, president of the engineering college, announced today. NIT is a nonprofit college that prepares its graduates for careers in the aviation, electronics and space industries. It is located at 1155 W. Arbor Vitae St. in Inglewood.
