Half of Torrance Sears 1200 Employees Already Hired

As the opening day for the beautiful and ultra-modern Sears, Roebuck and Co. store in the Del Amo Shopping Center approaches, there is an air of excited enthusiasm among the 600 employees already employed, most of whom are residents of the community serviced by the new store.

When the doors of Sears new, est and most advanced retail store open, a personnel organization of 1,200 will be on hand. The company has brought only 23 thoroughly seasoned key executive people from beyond the Torrance and South Bay trading areas.

per cent of our personnel requirements in this way." Not all of the employees in the new store will be helping customers with their merchandise selections, since almost 150 people are employed serving customers behind the scene in the various operating functions of the store.

cafeteria and recreation area. Also located on the second floor is the air conditioning equipment which has been installed for the comfort of employees and customers.

pension fund of Sears employees has been in existence for 43 years. Today 26,000 employees own 26 percent of the outstanding capital stock of the company, valued at $787,419,675 as of Dec. 31, 1958. Sears employees contribute 5 per cent of their salaries, up to a maximum of $500 a year. The company contributes depending on the amount of its earnings, from 5 to 10 per cent of its net annual profits before deduction of federal taxes or dividends.

employees' and company's contributions are invested for the most part in Sears stock bought at whatever price the trustees of the fund deem prudent. Certain portions of the fund's assets are put into government bonds and cash.
