

Tartars Trounce Lennox Eleven; 33-0 Saxons Outplayed by Monarchs, 13-0

The Largest Circulating Newspaper between Los Angeles and Long Beach

See Sports Section

TORRANCE PRESS

1406 CRAVENS AVE.—FA 8-2345

10c PER COPY

VOL. XI

1 • 2 •

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1959

NUMBER 50

TUNING UP—Members of the Civic Symphony wood Riviera, prior to first concert. From left, work out at the home of Arthur Willey, Holly-Helen Mendel, Willey and Armand La Pointe.

Colete Nance to Perform Liszt Concerto with Civic Symphony

An entertaining program has been planned by conductor Elyse Aehle for the Civic Symphony concert to be heard at Redondo High School auditorium Friday, Oct. 16, at 8:15 p.m.

The soloist will be Colete Nance, concert pianist, who will play the Liszt E-flat concerto.

This is considered by many pianists to be one of most difficult of all concerti. It demands such strength that it is seldom attempted by a woman. Featured by the orchestra will be Dvorak's Symphony "From the New World," "Mignon" by Thomas will be the overture.

The conductor of the Civic Symphony of the South Bay, Elyse Aehle, was honored recently by the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors because "as a member of the Los Angeles County Music Commission she gave of her time, energy and knowledge to the advancement of music throughout the County of Los Angeles."

The citation goes on to praise, among other things, her chairmanship of the Youth Band committee, her assistance to youth orchestras, her originating and direction of the annual Festival of the Arts, and the Christmas Civic Pantomime, her conducting of two orchestras in California, and that she is internationally known as a concert violinist.

Under her leadership the following musicians will be heard: (Continued on page two)

CAR THEFT VICTIM TURNS OTHER CHEEK

There's honor among victims of thieves. Fritz Merralls' breakfast was interrupted by the Torrance Police Department Tuesday morning. They had recovered his car.

Merralls didn't know it was missing. He lives at 83 Yacht Harbor Dr., inside the gates of the Portuguese Bend Club.

Two boys, who had demonstrated considerably more enterprise than judgment, were returned to the Fred C. Nellis School for Boys in Whittier, whence they had fled.

Wednesday morning Merralls was at the police department with a jacket one of the boys had left in his car. He thought the child might take cold.

STEEL UNION HEAD ASSAILS IKE HERE

PIERIAN SPRING, 1959—Torrance High School students drink deeper of the fount of knowledge with introduction of TV into classrooms. Supplementary programs in current instruction will be used when they fit the school's classes. Video courses are being beamed on KCOP and KNXT. Classes include science, English, health, social studies and music. Four schools are trying out TV as teaching medium. Above: Judy Hagen, Phil Cosby and Diane Haddix.

Says Injunction on Strike Too Little, Too Late

President Eisenhower acted three months too late in invoking the Taft-Hartley Law to end the nationwide steel strike, it was declared today by Alex McJannett, president of this area's USA-CIO Local 1414.

The time for the President to act, he told The Press, was in July. Now, McJannett said, 90 days have been lost, working a tremendous hardship on steel's employees.

If the union members were being paid while staying out, as they are in New York, the local president declared they wouldn't care if they never returned to work under conditions which were under consideration during negotiations.

McJannett branded imposition of the Taft-Hartley Law an attempt to take away all the gains made by the United Steelworkers in the past 20 years.

He said local leadership and membership are bitterly disappointed at Eisenhower's action, but they will comply with the law and go back to their jobs.

However, he said, it will be out of the question to return to work for at least another week, for it will take that long to put the T-H machinery into operation and to prepare the steel furnaces and plants for production.

Last week McJannett made a trip to Palm Springs to visit the President when the latter was vacationing near there.

He was prepared to deliver a message to him, requesting that Eisenhower appoint a committee to study the steel controversy impartially and make recommendations. He also wanted to urge that the President abstain from invoking provisions of the Taft-Hartley measure.

McJannett was refused in his plea to talk to Eisenhower personally. The best he could do was a conversation with James Hagerty, the President's press secretary. Hagerty said he would see that the message was delivered.

Steelworkers here generally feel they have lost one round of a battle that may start to reverse the successes they have attained in the past.

HANDCRAFT PROJECTS by members of the Torrance Adult Club are displayed by (left to right) Anne Hight, Emma Martin and Maude Jepson. The works will be on display Tuesday when the club stages its annual bazaar and luncheon from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The club meets at the Torrance Adult Center, 1318 Cravens Ave., a facility of the Torrance Recreation Dept.

Toastmasters Install Panel in Walteria

John Morley, Palos Verdes resident, this week became president of the Rolling Hills Toastmaster club, at an installation dinner in Walteria.

Morley, who is employed by the Northrop Aviation Company, is a veteran Toastmaster, who has held several offices in the club in past years. He succeeds James Finlay, of Redondo Beach, who is now on a visit to the British Isles. Finlay is the newly elected governor of Area 3, which embraces all Toastmasters' Clubs in the South Bay region.

Installation ceremonies were conducted by Roy Graham, a director on the board of Toastmasters' International.

Other new officers are William Waddell, educational vice president; S. Ambrose Freedman, administrative vice president; Bud McAllister, secretary; Don Meehan, treasurer; and Bob Bagby, sergeant-at-arms. Graham commended the club for its enterprising program and its recent acquisition of new members, many of them connected with the South Bay region's leading industrial concerns.

The Rolling Hills Toastmasters' Club meets every Wednesday night at 4020 Pacific Coast Highway in Walteria, at 7 p.m. Guests are welcome.

Torrance School Bond Issue Sold

At the request of the Torrance Unified School District, the Board of County Supervisors this week sold $2,000,000 in school bonds to the Security-First National Bank, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn reported.

Identical bids of four per cent were received from four bidders. Security offered a premium payment of $26,431, to reduce the net interest to 3.87 per cent.

The money will be used to repay state loans and for capital improvements.

GOOD NEIGHBORS—City Attorney Stanley E. Remelmeier, YMCA board member and chairman of the YMCA Good Neighbor Breakfast, dusts trophy while Tommy (Smoky) Tower of Western Avenue Baptist School prepares to stuff himself with pancakes and Jan Hoffman, city hall phone operator, holds tickets. —Press Photo

Rites Conducted for Morris Beck

Funeral services were conducted this week for Morris Beck, owner of Beck Pontiac in Wilmington, at Trinity Lutheran Church, Long Beach.

Mr. Beck had been associated with the business more than 30 years in the Harbor area. He was a member of the Optimist Club and served as a YMCA chairman. He died unexpectedly Sunday. Burial was in Green Hills Memorial Park, San Pedro.

Driving Instructor at Governor's Parley

Martin Jack, supervisor of driver education at Leuzinger High School, last week attended the Governor's Traffic and Safety Conference in Sacramento.

Inside the Press

Torrance is singing and buzzing with commercial expansion unparalleled anywhere in the United States. Real-estate developments, new apartments, business firms, factories, and commercial establishments are exploding into being faster than the citizen can watch them.

The only way Torrance residents can keep up with the fantastic expansion of their city—huge new shopping centers and other building activity—is through the Sunday real-estate department in The Torrance Press. For today's news on property and construction and unequalled residential opportunities, see Page 00.

Elsewhere in today's edition:

Page	Page
Mike Callas .....	11 Schools .....
Classified .....	12-15 Sports .....
Letters .....	2 Women .....
Real Estate .....	7

Torrance Elks to Fete Strays Wednesday Night

Torrance Elks Lodge 1948 has planned a gala evening Wednesday in observance of Stray Elks' Night. The event will honor Elks from out-of-town lodges who have become residents of Torrance.

The committee, under chairmanship of Past Exalter Ruler Joseph E. Yates and Roger W. Holmes and Exalter Ruler Marvin R. Pike, has sent invitations to 300 stray Elks.

The group announced that those who may not have received invitations likewise will be welcome.

Cocktails will precede dinner at 6:30. Entertainment has been planned after introductions of guests. The event will be stag, for members only.

Driver Dies, Car Hits Pole Here

Charles O. Hatch, 55, of 2054 W. 166th St., died Thursday while driving at 182nd St. and Yukon Ave. here.

His car crashed a utility pole, but it was believed he was dead of a heart attack before the wreck. His wife, Helen, 44, suffered minor face cuts.