

Optimists Hear Buck Ingram on Boys' Problems

The Torrance Optimist Club last week heard Sgt. Buck Ingram of the police juvenile division at its meeting in the Palms restaurant.

Ingram said that since the club's slogan is "Friend of the Boy," it was appropriate he speak on problems of Torrance boys.

He urged that parents give more of their time and themselves to their boys and that all citizens work for more adequate recreation facilities to keep youngsters occupied.

The club's board met afterward to chart year-end events. On motion of Boris S. Woolley, the directors set up a membership drive to be aimed at business, industrial, and professional persons new to the city.

It was decided to relinquish the annual Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets in favor of sending clothes and money to the new Optimist Boys Home in San Bernardino.

Nov. 9 will be ladies' night, it was announced by Wink Winklbauer, secretary.
