

THE BIG TOP—Little Cheryl tells her mother, Mrs. Roy Disney, what her class has learned about the circus during a performance at Casimir School last week. In rear are Gregg Lutz, the fat man, and L. J. Silverman, the weight lifter. Pupils, in first-grade class, read about the circus, learned to spell related words and performed other tasks in connection with the presentation.

Hahn Says Clean Fuel Is Answer

The key to the elimination of smog is development of cleaner fuels, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn declared today. The need for cleaner gasolines is being brought to the attention of presidents of each major oil company in the county by the Board of Supervisors, demanding they take a personal interest in developing anti-smog gasolines.

Hayden, Stone Will Open Palos Verdes Estates Office

Hayden, Stone & Co., 67 years in business, member of the New York Stock Exchange and 13 other security and commodity exchanges, will open its fifth California office in Palos Verdes Estates next Wednesday. The office will be at 19 Malago Cove Plaza, according to Robert I. Higgins, general partner in charge of West Coast operations. Shirley R. Chilton of 2200 Paseo Del Mar, Palos Verdes Estates, will be manager. For the past five years she has been registered representative, office manager of the San Fernando Valley office and administrative assistant to Higgins.

Before entering the brokerage business, she was an executive in the electronic field. She was an honor student while at the University of Washington.

Oscar C. Nelson of 2416 Via Ramon, Palos Verdes Estates, will be manager of the municipal-bonds department. He has been employed for 10 years in the Beverly Hills office. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and practiced law for five years in Michigan and Washington.

Arne J. Huhta will complete the original brokerage staff, transferring from the investment department where he has been for the last 2 1/2 years. He is a native of DeKalb, Ill., attended Northern Illinois College and the University of Illinois and served three years with the marines in World War II, including overseas duty. He has been in the finance and investment business since college.

The new office has the Dow-Jones financial news service by direct press wire, a quotation board that lists nearly 125 stocks and the moving tape by Translux projection of the New York Stock Exchange. David Lein, of Manhattan Beach, a student at El Camino College, is boardmarker. After the close of the market on the office's opening day, there will be an open house for visitors. Refreshments will be served. Hayden, Stone & Co.'s other California offices are Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Sherman Oaks, and La Jolla.

Rites Conducted for Crash Victim

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday in Hawthorne for Lois Fiesler, 32, of 4007 177th St., who was killed in a traffic crash Sunday.

Injured in the accident, which occurred at Alameda and Imperial Highway, were Paul Walton, 32, of 4043 W. 177th St., and Colleen Woolaver, 26, and Richard Woolaver, 26, both of Inglewood.

Mrs. Fiesler leaves two brothers, Alvin and Lloyd Johns, and three sisters, LaVonne Real, Dorothy Ekdahl, and Ardith Mark-

Post Office Will Sell 46 Trucks

The Los Angeles post office will sell 46 used vehicles at a spot-bid sale Saturday, according to an announcement by Postmaster Clara A. Conner.

The sale will start at 10 a.m. The offering includes 13 1/2-ton Dodge, Chevrolet, and Fords, 28 Ford panel 1 ton, and five Dodge panel 1 1/2 ton with dual wheels.
