By RON BURPO

"Dips" the Craze

Canapes are appetizers served before meals. They are usually on thin slices of bread or crackers so that they can be eaten away from the table without knives or forks. Canapes were originally started in China where delicacies were served before the meal. The Russians improved on this idea by including a combination of all types of tidbits. The American cocktail hour has adopted the Canape idea and no cocktail party is complete without a variety of "dips." Hors d'oeuvres are elegant appetizers eaten at the table with knife and fork as the first course. Canapes, as we said before, are eaten away from the table and held in the hand.

Holding in hand and eating away from the table has become quite a popular way of eating now days. And by looking around at a few menus one could see that quite a number of restaurants have acknowledged this fact.

If you just happened to have been in WOODY'S SMORGASBURGER last Saturday you couldn't have missed the 50 happy young boys and girls celebrating their playmates birthday's.

Celebrating his 6th birthday along with 23 of his guest was DICK GLEASON from TORRANCE. We were glad to have with us also SUZANNE CHURCHILL 8 years old and MICHAEL JUTOUSKY 6 years old.

For a DINING TREAT for the WHOLE FAMILY it's WOODY'S SMORGASBURGER Hi-chairs and Jr. chairs available. Our SMORGAS-BAR (a small one for children) has a complete supply of condiments for burgers. ### Jobs at Record Peak for December in State

California employment rose to a record December count of 5,904,000 as steel plants went into full production and hiring zoomed in retail stores and post offices, according to John F. Henning, state industrial relations director. He said that last month's employment figure topped that of December, 1965, by 188,000.

that feel the same way. Indulge in conversation concerning the arts and other topics and arrive at conclusions not influenced by mass media," Hare reiterated. We finished our strong coffee, paid Vivian a dollar for the brew and departed satisfied that we could at least tell friends that "beatniks" or rather "artniks" are not exactly like we were told to believe.

of the term. "Artniks are people, customers were called "artniks" mostly from the professional ranks, who have rebelled against some of the accepted ways of life. They are not the criminal type. They feel that the entertainment pushed on them by TV is for the intellectuality of the 7 year old. At a coffee house they get together with others
