Hahn Says Harbor Hospital Delay Longer Than Work on Hoover Dam

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn this week told colleagues he visited Hoover dam last weekend and learned this project was built in four years, while the county has delayed almost four years in preparing plans for construction of Harbor General Hospital.

"The federal government has never been noted for speed in accomplishing major projects, yet Hoover dam, the tallest in the world and one of the largest and most difficult engineering feats, was built in four years.

"In November, 1956 the voters of Los Angeles County approved a bond issue of $15,400,000 to build Harbor General Hospital—and the plans haven't yet been submitted to the Board of Supervisors for advertising for bids," Hahn declared.

He said construction will take at least two years—making a total six from voter approval of the project until it is placed in operation.

County Defeats One-Court Plan

County Supervisors this week turned down a proposal for consolidation of Los Angeles County's 28 municipal-court districts and three justice-court districts into a single district. Municipal-court judges proposed the consolidation.

A LONG TALE—"Darby O'Gill and the Little People," Walt Disney's fantastic story of Ireland's leprechauns, comes alive on Radium Drive-in screens today and tomorrow. The film, with some of the greatest photo effects of the era, features gorgeous Janet Munro and Albert Sharpe in lead roles. Companion feature is "Ten Seconds to Hell," suspense thriller.
