ARMY UNDERSECRETARY HUGH M. MILTON II

Armed Forces Chief to Be Parade Marshal

Army Undersecretary, Hugh M. Milton II will be grand marshal of the May 21 Armed Forces Day parade and celebration here.

Jack Phillips, chairman of a Chamber committee planning the event, said Milton has accepted an invitation to represent Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates at the celebration, expected to be the most ambitious of its kind in Southern California.

Milton will review a parade in which men and equipment of America's armed forces will march along Torrance Blvd. to the Civic Center starting at 11 a.m. He will award a trophy to the unit judged most outstanding.

A noted educator in civil life, Milton has a distinguished military career that began as an enlisted man in World War I. He won a commission as a second lieutenant then and afterwards served in reserve organizations. Shortly before the outbreak of World War II, Milton was recalled, saw action in the Pacific and won the Silver Star in the Philippines. He is now a major general. He was appointed to his Defense Department post in 1958 by President Eisenhower.

In addition to the 1 1/2-hour parade, Armed Forces Day events in Torrance will include a display of military equipment at Civic Center, a luncheon for Milton and other guests and a military ball at the National Guard Armory, 2505 Cabrillo Ave.

Mayor Albert Isen has asked all residents of the City to display the American flag at their homes and businesses during the observance.

Preceding the celebration, Torrance schoolchildren will participate in an essay contest on importance of military might.
