

OUTDOORS WITH MEL

BY MEL SALTZMAN

After many inquiries as to why the bass are hitting the black jigs of various types with such regularity, groups of fishermen I know discussed it over a card game last week. Many theorys were introduced and lots of talk wasted we came up with several ideas. Some of the plastic artificials have a scent which is unusual and could have something to do with their catching ability. Another thought is the action of the flexible porkind or plastic which teases the fish into a frenzy. This could be true but lots of other plugs do the same. I brought up the fact that the lure has got to resemble something in the water which is a natural food. We tried to think what a black pork strip looks like and after losing 2 hands of poker I thought of a tadpole. This could be the answer. In almost all the lakes where the bass are taken on black eel strips theres a good frog population. We know that tadpoles are found in the shallow waters of lakes and streams and are a favorite food of all game fish. We can't be sure but its an interesting theory and as long as the bass continue to gobble up black jigs we fishermen are happy. Since this is a costly type of fishing we at Sportsville U.S.A. have put in molds and hooks so these jigs can be made very inexpensively. Stop in and see us.

Lets go fishing.

Salt water has been great for barracuda and bass as well as bonito with a few yellows showing locally but few caught. San Diego has finally really broken loose with fish counts over 1000 every day. Ensenada is good for log barracuda with some yellows and a few white sea bass taken. Bait has been good for a change. The Redondo bay has been full of halibut ranging in size from 1 pound to 20 pounds. Glad to see them back after so many years of few flats.

Fresh water fishing has been good with lots of people casting in on local fishing. Big Bear Lake is producing better than it has in many years. The trout have averaged a pound or better with lots of 2 and 3 pound fish being caught. Hemet is producing lots of big firm trout up to 18 inches. Irvine catches center on the weekly plants of trout which are up to 3 pounds in weight some of the bass fishermen that know the lake report good bass fishing. Isabella is the hot bass lake with crappie fishing picking up all the time. The wind is a problem and is heavy one day and still the next. Sherwood is producing its best fishing in many years with bass up to 4 1/2 pounds and large crappie and bluegill, you can fish poppers in the shallow water or eel jigs in the deep, both with good results. This is a good time to try Mead as the weather is good, not too hot and fishing has been good. Bass are being caught on hellbenders and Bombers and crappie on go-getters and small spinners.
