Supreme Court Refuses to Study Dominguez Case

Finances of the Public Utilities Commission in the Torrance City versus the Dominguez Water Company dispute will not be reviewed, revealed Stanley Remelmeier, city attorney.

He reported the Supreme Court has turned down the city on reviewing the case.

The dispute, now several years old, arose over an agreement between the city and the Dominguez firm whereby water facilities in the Southwest Park area would revert to the city after 10 years.

Pact Cancelled

After the homes were developed, Remelmeier reported, Dominguez sought to have the agreement invalidated and was upheld by the PUC.

The city's appeal to the Supreme Court was based on the PUC decision, Remelmeier claimed.

State Receives Freeway Bids

State Highway Commission officials will open bids for portions of the San Diego Freeway to include the interchange with the Harbor Freeway today.

The Harbor Freeway is presently under construction between 161st St. and 190th St. This section will be opened Aug. 1, said a county representative.

Bids to complete the construction of the freeway from 208th St. to Pacific Coast Highway will be considered in August.

The Highway Commission has budgeted $6,900,000 for construction of the link to be completed in July, 1962.

Family Initiates Harbor Hospital

First baby delivered at the new 50-bed Bay Harbor Osteopathic Hospital and her folks got a rousing send-off Sunday. Even father got into the act, which is unusual, but it was Father's Day.

First child born at the new facility is Helen Rose Jaramillo. She registered in at eight pounds and two ounces and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Jaramillo, live just across the street from the new hospital.

Mrs. Jaramillo just walked across the street to become the hospital's third registered patient and the first mother in the facilities' brief history. The baby was born just 12 hours and nine minutes after the official opening.

Members of the Bay Harbor Osteopathic Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. William Kimpel, assisted by Mrs. Charles Crawford, president of the hospital guild, presented the baby and her mother and father a score or more special presents, marking the arrival of the first baby.

The new father is employed in a Torrance steel mill.

Contestants must be between 17 and 21 years old, reside within Torrance city limits and be able to ride a horse to qualify.

Applicants will be judged wearing western attire of jeans and blouses, the program chairman said.
