Volunteers Aid Voting Campaign

Heading an army of volunteers out to register "every last resident" in the city, Rose Goodson, registration chairman of the Torrance Democrats, Inc., is in charge of the non-partisan, civic drive. She mentioned that Sept. 15 is the final date of registration to be eligible to vote in the November election.

Persons wanting to donate time for the registration campaign may volunteer by calling Mrs. Goodson at FR 8-1603.

Wyoming put its women on a pedestal long before the other states. According to World Book Encyclopedia, Wyoming granted women full voting rights in 1869.
