

What's New on Fall Television

"CONTINENTAL CLASSROOM"—A college-level course in Contemporary Mathematics, will be colorcast on the NBC-TV Network's Monday-through-Friday educational series during the 1960-61 season, with the first semester devoted to Modern Algebra and the second to Probability and Statistics. Dr. John L. Kelley (above), chairman of the mathematic department at the University of California (Berkeley), will teach the former course. Last year's course in Modern Chemistry will be repeated in half-hour colorcasts preceding each Contemporary Mathematics program. Dr. Frederick Mosteller, of Harvard University, will teach the second semester on Contemporary Mathematics.

"THE JACK PAAR SHOW"—It's hear, see and speak no evil, for Jack Paar (left) and his numerous late-night conversational cohorts, including announcer Hugh Downs (center) and music director Jose Melis, plus a bevy of popular guest panelists, as the late-night entertainment series on the NBC-TV Net work observes its fourth season of providing the unexpected for Jack's millions of fans. To be colorcast during the new season, the series will again feature a happy mixture of old favorites and new discoveries.

Gig Young, whose only TV appearances have been on prestige network shows, will next star in the hour-long classic, "Prince and the Pauper," on Channel 4's new fall series, "The Shirley Temple Storybook." The lavish show is scheduled for viewing Nov. 27.

Ralph Bellamy, long a favorite Broadway and television character actor, will portray Thomas Jefferson in a full-hour, authentic drama of the last years of Alexander Hamilton, killed in 1804 in a duel with Aaron Burr, in one of seven new presentations of the highly acclaimed series "Our American Heritage." Arthur Kennedy is set for the role of Hamilton. The show will air sometime this fall. Alex Segal will direct the Mildred Freed Alberg production.

Many old timers and youngsters viewing old movies will remember scare-star Boris Karloff. In a series entitled "Thriller," Boris will act as host and periodic star of the full-hour mystery and suspense show. Stories of ordinary people trapped in unexpected situations to adaptations of classic works of mystery is the format concocted by executive producer Fletcher Markle.

"THE TAB HUNTER SHOW"—Tab Hunter stars in his first continuing TV series, the new half-hour situation comedy built around the adventures of a fun-loving bachelor cartoonist, Sunday nights on Channel 4. Each episode of "The Tab Hunter Show" will be built around the guest appearance of a beautiful girl—such as shapely Mary McClure.

"PETER LOVES MARY"—starring Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy as a young married couple who must divide their time between show business careers and suburban family life—and featuring (foreground) Gil Smith and Merry Martin as their children—the new Wednesday night, half-hour domestic comedy series adds romantic zest to the NBC-TV Network's fall fare. Also in the cast is Bea Benadaret as their housekeeper.
