

Center to Offer Baby-Care Study

The fall series of expectant parents' classes slated in the Torrance Health Center, 2300 W. Carson St., will begin Thursday, Sept. 15, 1 p.m. according to Dr. B. A. Kogan, district health officer for the Los Angeles County Health Department.

The course, given by the County Health Department, is designed to aid prospective parents in planning and caring for the new baby. A discussion on how the baby grows before birth and the film, "Human Heredity," are planned for the first meeting.

Later classes will focus on labor and delivery, formula preparation, care of the newborn, and health of the mother.

Enrollment Soars

Two new schools—Towers, 5600 Towers St., and Madison, 17515 Amio Ave.—will hike the number of schools in the district to 33. When the district started in 1947, there were only five schools and 2,000 students.

New teachers, 240 strong, will report to their buildings today for orientation sessions. They will be honored at a Chamber of Commerce-sponsored steak fry at Torrance Park tonight and at a Torrance Education Association breakfast tomorrow morning.

The remainder of the 1000-person teaching staff will return Sept. 12 for pre-school sessions. The group will hear Superintendent J. H. Hull and Dr. Theodore Clymer, noted author and educator from the University of Minnesota, at Torrance High School Tuesday.

Freshmen at the three high schools will report Sept. 13 for orientation sessions, with North High's program to start at 8 a.m.; South High's at 1 p.m.; and Torrance High's at 2 p.m. Buses will pick up students at all scheduled stops about 20 minutes before the sessions begin. They will leave seven minutes after the programs are over.

Regular starting times of the three high schools include North High at 7:40 a.m. and Torrance and South Highs at 8 a.m.

North High seniors will report to rooms 101-115; juniors to rooms 306-317; sophomores to rooms 207-19; freshmen to teacher counselors' rooms; and new students to the cafeteria.

South High students will be directed by signs at the school, while new students will report to the cafeteria.

Torrance High seniors will go to the senior patio; juniors to upper tennis courts; sophomores to the science patio; freshmen to teacher-counselors' rooms; and new students to the auditorium.

Parents can check with individual elementary schools to find out starting times. All school cafeterias will be open on the first day of school, and lunches may be purchased. Lunches, including milk, cost 30 cents for elementary students. Ice cream is six cents extra and extra half-pints of milk cost four cents. High school lunches are ala carte.

Canine Training Club Commences Classes Saturday

A new Harbor Lite Dog Obedience Club will start a new novice class Saturday at 2 p.m. at West Athens Park, El Segundo Blvd. and Broadway, Los Angeles.

The nine-week course will consist of heel on leash, figure eight, automatic sit, stand for examination, free heel, recall, long sit, long down. Highlight of the training is graduation, at which time handlers and dogs are awarded graduation certificates and first, second, and third place trophies for highest scoring handlers and dogs.

Harbor Lite Dog Obedience Club is the sponsor of Girl Scout Troop 2000.
