

Brownies Mothers Meet, Make Plans "Mad Hatter" Luncheon

The first mother's meeting of the year for Troop 2008 sponsored by Fern Greenwood PTA was held at 10 a.m. at the home of troop leader, Alice Shinoda. Those attending were: Betty Goddard, Nancy Hardie, Jane Ackerman, Ruth Waddell, Dorothy Fulton, Eileen Holt, Rhoda Major, Laura Whitlington, Gloria Fleming, Gloria Champion and Alice Shinoda.

Joyce Tolson will serve instead of Betty Goddard who is needed to lead another troop.

A new Brownie, Carol Knight, was welcomed into the troop.

Plans are underway for a Mother-Daughter Luncheon on Oct. 29, to celebrate the troop's first birthday. Mrs. Holt and Mrs. Whitington are in charge of arrangements.

Any Brownie who has three unexcused absences from consecutive meetings will be automatically expelled from the troop, according to a new ruling.

Regular Brownie meetings will be held at the Shinoda residence on Thursday after school.

After the business meeting guests were invited to swim in the Shinoda pool and refreshments were served.

UCLA faculty members have mapped spaceage curricula from freshman to the Ph.D. level for tomorrow's astronauts and rocket designers.

"Mad Hatter" Luncheon Given by Las Colinas

A "Mad Hatter's Luncheon" given by the Las Colinas Garden Club at the Smith Bros. Shanty last Monday afternoon touched off the fall activities for the members and guests.

Showing her newest collection of hats was "Alicia the Mad Hatter" of Redondo Beach with members of the club serving as models. Modeling the unique creations were Mmes. Ray Hogan, O. J. Vogl, Wayne Allen, Fredryc Darby, and Sidney Greene.

Wearing self-made hats of any design the members added a spark of humor to the luncheon and competed for prizes.

Mrs. Ann Taylor, a guest, won a prize for the most beautiful hat with her "So, California's Idea of the Wild West" creation.

"Shampoo Day" created and worn by Mrs. William Burk, 1st vice president, won the most unusual award.

For the most unique material, Mrs. O. J. Vogl, social chairman, won with her "Jonquil Fantasy."

Mrs. W. O. Pratt, publicity chairman, won one of "Alicia the Mad Hatter's" hats as a door prize.

Las Madrecitas Social Aids Orthopedic Hosp.

Las Madrecitas, South Bay Auxiliary of the Crippled Children's Guild, will hold a "Wine-Taste and Pizza Party" on Oct. 1 at the patio of the Higgins Brick and Tile Company. Assisting the group will be wine connoisseur, Mr. Ralph Anderson.

Invitations are being sent to friends and members of the Auxiliary who purchase tickets to the Oct. 6 Charity Premiere of the Decorators Show at the Pan Pacific Auditorium. Premiere Night is sponsored by the Crippled Children's Guild, and all proceeds from the event go to the Orthopaedic Hospital.

Making arrangements for the pre-premiere party are Mmes. Richard Egan, Horace LeCuyer, and Louis Bednarzik. Further information concerning Premiere Night can be had by calling FR 4-2127.

P. R. Man Speaks to Pilot Club

"Public Relations is Your Job" was the subject of a lecture given by Joseph C. Byrne, special public relations representative for the Southern California Gas Co., at the meeting of the Pilots Club last week.

The dinner meeting took place at the Smith Brothers Shanty, 4020 Pacific Coast Hwy., Waleria.

Mrs. John Whitlington is president of the club.

Miss Mae Sleep, chairman of the publicity and public relations committee, took charge of the meeting. She was assisted by members of the committee, Mrs. Kenneth Beight, Mrs. Mildred Kruger, Mrs. Joan P. Luup and Mrs. Charles Moore.

Mrs. Carey Has Birthday Dinner

Among the recent celebrants at The Pen and Quill in Manhattan Beach recently were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Carey of Hollywood Riviera, who observed her birthday anniversary by dining with Mrs. Harold Dillman of Manhattan Beach and Mrs. Lester Chaddis of Torrance.
