Comedy, romance, confusion and excitement will pervade the opening performance of "Our Hearts Were Young And Gay" this semester's Senior Play to make its debut on Nov. 17 in a special performance for the student body only; on the eighteenth, "Our Hearts Were Young And Gay" has an evening performance open to the general public in Narbonne's auditorium for admission fee of one dollar.

Heading the cast is Joan Ford as Cornelia Skinner, Shelly Maurice as Emily Kimbrough, Bill Genisse as Lee McEvoy and Bill Day as Dick Winter. Thirteen supporting roles complete the cast.

Light comedy describes the mood of the play involving the trip of two teenage girls to Paris by themselves. Emily is more interested in European men than culture and Cornelia intends to study dramatics in Paris. The antics of these young American innocents in France makes for quite lively scenes.

Narbonne's A Capella and Madrigal choirs have been chosen to appear with the A Capella choirs of San Pedro, Washington, South Gate, and Los Angeles high schools in the annual Bach Festival at the First Congregational Church in Los Angeles. Rehearsal for the event are leading up to a climatic performance on November 20 at 4 p.m.

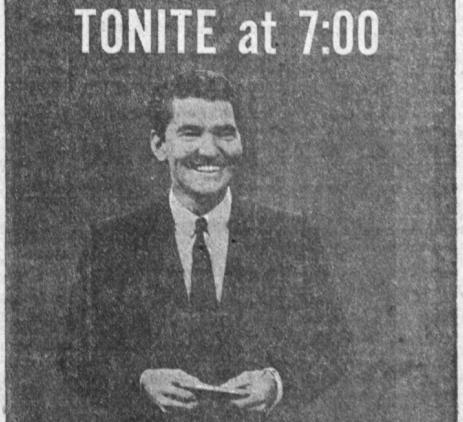

Miss Alive Sturdy, director of Narbonne's choral groups for over twenty years thinks that it will be a very promising "Festival."

A prototype of the national elections, student body elections require pre-registration to vote. Registration at Narbonne began last Tuesday and will continue until Nov. 23. Booths set up according to grade level in the multipurpose room will be available for registration.

As part of the enrichment program for honor students in psychology at Harbor College, Noel Toombs, Betty Womach and your columnist all advance placement participants at Narbonne, visited Patton State Hospital. The students learned the factors

FALL FEEDING
Fall feeding keeps many lawns greener over the winter than gardeners seem to realize. Feed regularly (4 times a year).
