

Secretaries' Chapter Holds Installation

Installation of officers of Airborne Chapter National Secretaries Association claimed the spotlight of the June monthly meeting held at Fox Hills Country Club last Thursday evening.

Happy talk preceded the banquet dinner as members gathered in groups for the social hour in welcome to their guests and prospective members. Incoming officers wore corsages matching the candle hues symbolizing their office.

Miss Dorine George, retiring president and installing officer, wound up the business of the year's mid-meeting and turned the office and gavel over to Mrs. D. V. Carsey.

CHANGING GUARD

The changing of the guard took place in tradition with Dorine George lighting the tall white taper which represents "inspiration, instruction and guidance" from which each officer lit her respective candle. Mrs. Carsey, lighting her white candle, received instruction and pledged herself to her office. Mrs. Roy Williams was pinned with the guard of first vice president by Mrs. Pete Proffitt, following the lighting of her red candle.

Mrs. Richard Henke, in pledging to her office of second vice president, lit her candle and received the guard from Mrs. Clifford Merrill. Mrs. Al Risi, assuming the office of third vice president, accepted the guard from Mrs. William F. Bell as she lit the red candle.

Mrs. Joe E. Coleman, recording secretary, lit the gold candle and received the book of golden deeds guard pin from Mrs. Cliff Shimkus.

GREEN CANDLE

The light green candle, depicting the office of corresponding secretary, was lit by Mrs. Mattie Lee Sherburne.
