WEEKLY SCORERS

The women pinners head the list this week. Jo Ann Fenton rolled a big high game of 216 while Emma Spates, GHBA, shot a 205. Kazuko Tatsumi, Harbor City Nisei, also shot a 205; Ann Hutton, GHBA, had an all spare game; and R. Yamamoto, Nisei, rolled a terrific 201 score.

The only high junior scorer for the week-end was Dale Williams and he shot a 229 game.

Last week's Bowl-A-Round house winners of $30, $20, and $10 were HS, E. Sturm, 696; 2nd HS, H. Smith, 691; and HG, R. Cassidy, 277.

This is absolutely the last week to qualify for the fabulous Bowl-A-Round. You still have time to bowl and qualify for the finals, so hurry on over.

Lots of cash and valuable prizes are just waiting to be won, so why not be a lucky winner?

NEWS EVENTS

The house bowling news of the weekly events includes the spare pick-up class tomorrow afternoon at one. Let's hope the films have been developed and will be shown to us. You gals will finally have the chance to see what you look like when you are bowling — better than we thought!

The GHBA and Jefferson Bowl Association will have a rematch bowling tournament at Jefferson this Sunday at 11 a.m. Be sure that all members are signed up and are there on time. This is a real pumping group, so spectators are invited to help cheer their favorites on to victory.

Car Club Members Slate Annual Automobile Show

Some 4,792 California teenage boys interrupted their summer vacations to go into business for three days and nights this month.

They gambled nearly 35,000 of their own corporation's money in the expectation that their income will exceed expenses by enough to enable them to expand their car club program.

Boys are members of T-Timers, Inc., the world's largest hot rod club, with headquarters in Santa Monica and branches in 59 cities including Torrance.

Preparations have been under way since January for their Fifth Annual Car Show and Parts Revue, which was presented at the big Santa Monica Civic Auditorium over the weekend.

Ron Koontz, 25-year-old corporation vice-president who is the show manager, and Hal J. Hild, retired attorney and founder-president of the club, both serving without pay, spearheaded plans for the business venture.

Volunteers among the club members manned ticket booths and gates and will provide security during the show, which was open each day from noon to midnight.

The show was highlighted by displays of racing machines, custom cars, midget racers, sprint cars and dragsters, some built especially for the event and many never before shown.

A new feature of the show this year was the display of several hundred plastic model cars.

Manufacturers' displays included go-karts, parachutes built especially for quick stops in limited distance drag races and sufficient parts and accessories to build an entire automobile.

Present to answer questions were representatives of chassis and wheel manufacturers and distributors of cams, carburetors, oils, additives, waxes, piston rings, wheel discs, exhaust pipes, safety belts, upholstery, etc.

Sixteen-year-old, blonde Linda Walsh of Van Nuys reigned over the show as "Miss T-Timer." She was assisted by seven teen-age princesses and by two-year-old Melinda Jameson, who added considerable zip and pint-sized glamour as "Miss Junior T-Timer." These girls and a score of others posed with cars for amateur photographers.

LONG HOURS
network, Radio Free Europe is on the air seven days a week, for 18 hours a day to Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia and almost 6 hours a day to Romania and Bulgaria.
