

County Opens Animal Shelter To Serve Western Sections

Lomita, Rolling Hills and Rolling Hills Estates are three local areas to be served by the county's newest animal shelter, 216 W. Victoria St., Gardena, it was announced by Supervisor Burton W. Chace recently.

The new shelter, set to serve the western and southwestern section of the county, will be under the direction of Willie J. DeMars, who was appointed by Poundmaster Marvin T. Thronson.

Five buildings in contemporary architecture, designed to accommodate approximately 300 animals under sanitary conditions and in a humane manner at a minimum operating expense are included. The buildings are an office, utility building, two kennels and a shelter for large animals.

The shelter is open to the public for the redemption and purchase of animals from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday. However, animals may be brought to the shelter any time between 7 a.m. and midnight. Employees are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days per week, in order to provide full coverage for the handling of regular and emergency calls.

Fourteen employees will be assigned to this new facility to perform office, field patrol and kennel duties.

Mayor Proclaims Anti-Communism Week Begins Mon.

Proclaiming Anti-Communism Week in the City of Rolling Hills recently, Mayor T. B. Roach, Jr., set aside August 28 through September 1 as a time to "feel a deep and personal responsibility toward the preservation of our freedom."

These dates coincide with the dates the Southern California School of Anti-Communism has set aside to meet and discuss course of action.

The mayor said he urged that this week "be set aside as a week during which our citizens will join others of Southern California to enlighten themselves on the insidious work of an international conspiracy that is dedicated to the destruction of our fundamental Constitutional rights as free men."

Noted Lecturer Addresses Teachers at Orientation

Highlighting the four-day orientation, September 7, 8, 11 and 12, for Torrance teachers will be a general meeting in the South High School gymnasium where Dr. John H. Furbay, Director of Trans World Airlines, will present a lecture entitled "Countdown for Tomorrow."

Dr. Furbay, internationally known lecturer, author and world air commuter, has directed the global education program of T.W.A. on four continents for years and was a recent recipient of the Brewer Trophy, aviation's "oscar" for outstanding service in advancing air-age concepts. He has come to be known as one of America's most dynamic and inspirational interpreters of the international scene, said L. R. Albro of Torrance schools.

AWARENESS
 Dr. Furbay is associated with many leading organizations which are helping to create a more active awareness of the forces at play in the world of today. He has recently returned from several international conferences abroad and is a regular lecturer of the staff of the World Seminar of Education in Geneva, Switzerland, and of the Strategic Intelligence School, Washington, D. C.
 A fellow of the Royal Geographic Society, of London, the Royal Anthropological Society, and the National Geographic Society, Dr. Furbay spent several years as senior specialist in the United States Office of Education and as educational attache in the U.S. Embassies of Costa Rica and Colombia. For three years, while educational consultant to the Republic of Liberia, he served as president of the College of West Africa.

COLONEL
 During World War II, Dr. Furbay, who is also "Colonel Furbay," carried out special assignments for the War Department related to the invasion and occupation of Africa.

Dr. Furbay was an official delegate and reporter to the first Pan-American Conference on Cultural Cooperation at Havana, Cuba, and served as aviation's observer on the U. S. Delegation to UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization) in Mexico City, Beirut, Paris and Florence.

 Dr. Furbay's many years carrying out cultural, diplomatic, and commercial missions all over the globe have given him a deep insight into our present world, its problems, and its boundless possibilities, Albro said.

Commission Studies CD Shelter Plans

In answer to complaints of Torrance residents that fall-out shelters recommended by the national office of Civil Defense are not "good enough" for the community, the Torrance Civil Defense and Disaster Commission recently said these fall-out shelters do not conform to requirements of the Building Code because of earthquake possibilities.

City Manager Wade E. Peoples said the building division is now developing a plan which would comply with local requirements and provide protection at an approximate cost of $500.

John A. Bramhall, assistant city manager, said another problem involved is the location of a fall-out shelter and the height of the mound which would necessarily be caused by the half-buried type now being considered.

Consideration and study by the Planning Commission and action by the City Council must be taken before any plan is approved however, Bramhall said.

Localite Attends Illinois Convo

Karen Henderson of Torrance is among 105 young people from Southern California and Arizona attending the 7th National Methodist Student Conference at the University of Illinois this week.

Thomas E. Sawyer of Torrance recently completed a course in statistical methods in Industry at UCLA and received a certificate for his work. Sawyer is a reliability coordinator for the Garrett Corporation.
