At Fort MacArthur . . . Carousel of Antique Horses Center of Show Decorations

Circus fantasy will prevail Nov. 15 when Holy Trinity Mothers' Club presents "Merry Go Round of Fashions."
The show will begin at 11:30 a.m. at Fort MacArthur Officers' Club.
Some 600 Harbor and Peninsula women and 75 patrons are expected to attend the event, which will begin with a pink punch social hour.
Mrs. Andrew Zamberlin, club president, said proceeds will provide the four scholarships awarded annually to qualifying eighth grade graduates from Holy Trinity School.

Decorations
Mrs. Lawrence Di Carlo is general chairman.
Mrs. Kendall Linne and her co-decorators have planned a gold, black, white and shocking pink circus theme featuring a carousel garlanded with tulle and surmounted by a trio of imported antique Austrian horses in gold trappings and pink plumes.
Miniature replicas will center tables on which gold ribbon will be overlaid.

Places will be noted with hand decorated programs designed by Mrs. William Rockefeller, assisted by Mmes. Langdon Ayres and William Bryant.
Each table will bear a white horse on a gold ground, bound with gold cord looped over a traditional brass ring.
Professional models will display fall, winter and holiday fashions from the Le Dee Jae Shop of South Shores.
Accessory furs, courtesy of the French Furriers, will be modeled.
Miss Wilma Hastings of Long Beach will do the commentary.

Catered Luncheon
Following the catered luncheon and show Mmes. Robert Bongerz and Nino Di

Maggio will present gifts, including a complete $250 wardrobe, with the assistance of Mmes. Casper Klee, Jack Hurst, and John Gregg.
Other committee members who will be at hand to welcome guests are Mmes. Theodore Famighetti, chairman; Thomas Montgomery, William Ludwig, George Tripps, Peter Rubin, Andrew Guliani, and William Patterson.

Special Week Proclaimed by Redondo Dianas

Redondo Beach Dianas, Junior membership, California Federation of Women's Clubs, has proclaimed Nov. 5 to 11 as Medic-Alert Week, according to Mrs. Margaret Taylor, president.

The club voted to give endorsement to the Medic-Alert Foundation International in connection with the special week.

The foundation is a charitable, non-profit organization which helps protect millions of people with hidden medical problems.

Medic-Alert bracelets have engraved on the back a warning to physicians and passersby of the accident or seizure victim's problem.

Diabetics, hemophiliacs, epileptics, persons allergic to drugs or who have rare blood types or other problems all come under heading of "hidden medical problems."

The foundation maintains a central file on its members' medical problems at Thurlock, Calif., headquarters.

The vital information in these files is obtainable at a moment's notice on a 24 hour, collect call basis by physicians and other authorized personnel in an emergency.

Mrs. Taylor said that it is estimated one member in every family has a hidden medical problem and that over three million people in the United States are in need of some identification that will give information for proper medical treatment in an emergency.

The Medic-Alert Foundation International is endorsed by numerous State Medical Associations, National Sheriffs Associations, International Association of Fire Chiefs and other organizations.
