

'Service' Motto of Hospital Auxiliary

CHILDREN GET THRILL — With Riviera Community Hospital's "outside" window, the only one of its kind in this area, even the fittest brothers and sisters of new arrivals can take that cherished peek at their baby. Nursery supervisor, Mrs. James Steward, shows Riviera's first baby of the New Year, Adrian Scott Kruso, to Mrs. J. R. Bloomfield and Mrs. Horn, of the Women's Auxiliary.

Volunteers Devote Many Hours to Local Hospital's Patients

Serving others is an ideal for many—but for the women who volunteer their services in the Women's Auxiliary of Riviera Community Hospital—it is a daily reality.

Duties for the Auxiliary are many and varied. Delivering patients to hospital rooms; making up surgical packs; assisting in the Hospital's Central Supply; making sure patients have fresh water, etc. and that they are comfortable—these and many more duties are taken care of by this worthy group.

Women of all ages participate. There are teenage girls who volunteer their services after school hours and there are grandmothers who spend their leisure time by helping others through service in the Auxiliary during the day. No matter what their ages, these women have found there is much gratification in the rewarding jobs they have taken.

VIEWING WINDOWS

Since Riviera Community Hospital is the only hospital in this area with an "outside" window, the Auxiliary has an added duty which is made doubly enjoyable by its unique service. The duty is that of assisting youngsters, not old enough to be permitted inside the maternity ward, to view their brand new brothers and sisters through a glass partition much like the ones through which their parents and grandparents are looking through inside the hospital.

Without the Women's Auxiliary, which started in the Riviera Hospital just one year ago, many of the services and attentions which patients receive, would not be possible.

BEDSIDE GREETING — Welcoming new mother, Mrs. John Kruso, is Woman's Auxiliary recording secretary, Mrs. M. E. Webber and Mrs. Ruth Burke. Mrs. Burke, representing nationally known baby food company, presents gifts, shows films and has maternity programs for new and expectant mothers.

FOLDING DIAPERS can be a chore, but Nurse R. W. Iberhart shows expectant mothers, Mrs. Kenneth Lewis, chairman of Maternity Tea and Mrs. Loren Stern, past president of Riviera Community Hospital's Auxiliary, how to make the task quicker, easier and more enjoyable.

Evening Ceremony . . .

Rice-Kelley Vows Exchanged Saturday

Miss Sheryl Rae Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Earl Rice, and Mr. Darel Glen Kelley were wed in an evening ceremony Dec. 30 at the First Baptist Church. Rev. Morgan Gates officiated.

For her wedding, the bride wore an Alfred Angelo original gown of chantilly lace over white satin fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a sabrina neckline embroidered in seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt was illuminated by shepherds pouffs on either side which ended in a chapel length train, also edged with sequins. For her veil, she chose a dainty pearl crown with elbow length silk illusion.

BRIDESMAIDS

Maid of honor, Miss Mary Jean Cook and bridesmaids Donna Reich and Sandra Rice wore gowns of red taffeta and nylon organza and carried white fur muffs trimmed with red carnations. Flower girl, Karen Sadtler wore a white floor length taffeta and lace dress with flowers trimming the fur muff which she carried.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kelley,

Local Government Topic of Meetings

Next week the League of Women Voters of the Palos Verdes Peninsula will be holding the second of a series of unit meetings on the subject of the state's role in local government. At the first group of meetings attention was focused on the strain placed on local government by the population explosion and now the state had helped local government to meet their problems.

According to Mrs. Morwick Ross, chairman of the study, league members will gain background on the way the state government finances its operations which are in cooperation with local government. Bonding, grants-in-aid and the foundation of the tax base will be discussed at the coming meetings.

Meetings next week will be at the following homes: Monday noon (sack lunch), Mrs. John Crowther, 26801 Rolling Hills Road, Rolling Hills; Tuesday, 9:45 a.m., Mrs. R. A. Campbell, 5064 Foxpoint Lane, Rolling Hills Estates and 8 p.m. Mrs. Louis F. Lanzer, 4229 Paseo de Las Tortugas, Torrance; Wednesday, 9:30 a.m., Mrs. Joseph Rensch, 2433 Via Sonoma, Palos Verdes Estates, and at 8 p.m. Mrs. Richard Huddleston, 27102 Freepoint Road in Grandview.

Persons interested in attending any of these meetings are invited to call Mrs. Walter Peterson, FR 5-5737 for further information.

Dr. Jones To Speak Sunday

The first Sunday of the new year will be Communion Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church of Gardena, 1957 Redondo Beach Blvd. Communion services will be held at 9:30 and 11 a.m. with child care provided. Dr. R. Murray Jones' sermon topic is "The New Has Come."

Church school is held each Sunday at 9:30 a.m. until 10:45 a.m. There are classes for all ages, three through adult.

Bible study classes will be resumed on Wednesday morning at 10 with child care, also on Thursday evenings at 7:30. All are invited to attend these mid-week study groups.

Men of the church, under the leadership of Hugo Larson, have been working during the Christmas vacation on the landscaping of the church grounds. A sprinkling system has been installed and grass and shrubbery planted.

Friends connected with Pacific Yearly Meeting, like those of Philadelphia and a number of other Yearly Meetings, hold an unprogrammed worship service, sometimes called a "silent" meeting.

Distinguished Leaders of Church To Speak at Annual Convention

Rev. Clifford L. Tierney, pastor of the South Bay Church of God, 17661 Yukon Ave., announces that on Jan. 8, 9, 10 the church will be host to more than 400 ministers and lay-workers of the Southwestern Area; for the Annual South-west Ministerial Assembly and Church Workers' Convention.

Among the many distinguished leaders of the Church of God who will be speaking at this convention will be Dr. John A. Morrison, president emeritus of Anderson College and Theological Seminary, Anderson, Ind.; and Rev. J. R. Tackett, well-known Church of God Evangelist from Alexandria, La.

Also appearing at the convention will be Dr. Robert L. Shank, professor of Bible and social science, and author of the book "Life in the Son."

James Shell, Western division manager for the Gospel Trumpet Company, will display many books, literature and other curriculum of interest to those attending.

The Arlington College Choir from Long Beach, the College Park Church of God Choir, and the Chancel and Concord Choirs from the South Bay Church will be singing during the evening services. The film, "The Great Teaching Challenge," will be shown at the opening service, which starts at

Harbor Friends Hold Meetings

A Friends (Quaker) meeting for worship is held at 10:30 every Sunday morning in the lounge at Toberman Settlement, 131 N. Grand, San Pedro. All who are interested are welcome. Young children will be cared for in the playroom by one of the members.

The Harbor Friends group began early in 1961, meeting for some months on alternate Sunday evenings in members' homes. Weekly meetings at Toberman Settlement began in October. Under the guidance of Santa Monica Friends Meeting, the harbor group is preparing for affiliation with Pacific Yearly Meeting. Robert R. Mayer, 2416 Alma, San Pedro, is clerk; Ted Neff, 3303 S. Newton, Torrance, is treasurer, and Mena Neff is recorder. Dorothy Hayward, 1307 Paseo del Mar, San Pedro, is librarian.

Conference Held For Senior Scouts

The Los Angeles Council Senior Girl Scouts will be participating in the first full-scale senior conference since 1959 at the Ambassador Hotel on January 12th and 13th.

"Honor the Past and Serve the Future" is the theme of this 1962 Conference. This theme will be accompanied by discussion groups based on the government's National Purpose Project. The groups will discuss the political, economical, human relations, and world responsibility fields.

Helping to carry out this two day event will be Gerri Moore, Arlene Epstein, Gail Coulson, Jean Hickenbottom, Bess Rosenblum, and Jane de la Pena.

Artists Invited to Participate in Show

The Palos Verdes Peninsula will be the subject of the February show at Peninsula Gallery, Hollywood Riviera. Paintings and prints will be accepted from all artists in open competition. The only qualification is that the subject matter must pertain to the Palos Verdes Peninsula.

Landscapes, seascapes, and typical peninsula scenes will be shown. The gallery manager, Inez Staff, stated that "Great artists of the past have painted the scenes around them. Toulouse-Lautrec painted the Paris he knew. There are few places in the world more colorful than the Palos Verdes Peninsula. Our local artists should paint the beauty that is there." Deadline for entries will be January 30th. All artists interested in participating in this open show should contact the gallery manager, Inez Staff, at Peninsula Gallery, 1714 So. Catalina, Hollywood Riviera, or call FR 8-7033.

Annual Party

The Metropolitan Cactus and Succulent Society held its Christmas Party at the Women's Progressive Club, 3727 West 111th Place, Inglewood. The hall was gaily decorated for the occasion. A potluck supper was sent to the winners of the various games that were played and gifts were exchanged.
