Murphy Named as King Harbor Ass't General Manager

Daniel F. Murphy, Jr., small craft expert, has been named assistant general manager of King Harbor and Development Co., Redondo Beach. Development company president Morley M. Kasler made the announcement yesterday. Company is building 800 boat slips and other facilities in a $6 million marina project as new King Harbor, Redondo.

service of the maintenance department to help restore highways to their normal capacities as soon as possible.

Office workers and emergency crews also are in service to handle any flooded conditions caused by additional storms.

Highways drainage systems, clogged with mud and debris, are being cleaned out to allow high waters to drain off.

Where necessary, pumping operations are aiding in subsiding standing waters, Supervisor Hahn said.

Work is being coordinated by use of the County's two-way radio communication system, allowing work crews to be readily shifted where urgency requires.

Heaviest rainstorm since 1956 triggered landslides, felled trees, inundated homes and closed many roadways throughout the County.

Supervisor Hahn toured areas most heavily hit in his district in a U.S. Army "Duck" during the height of the storm and immediately called for a full investigation by County Flood Control officials as to the cause of flooding in the Gardena-Torrance area.
