Club Takes Out Tools, Begins Fund Campaign

Members of Victor Woman's Club certainly don't look like builders. In fact, many of the members will admit they don't know the difference between a nail and a knothole.

Despite this handicap, the women of the organization have decided to adopt as their major philanthropy the project of constructing, or at least collecting funds and soliciting work hours, a recreation building for Victor Park. According to the women, the project was inspired by the example set by the Hollywood Riviera Rotarians when that organization started a recreation building in El Retiro Park.

PARK BUDGET

Although the park will receive $35,000 this year for development, the Park and Recreation Department will be unable to schedule additional monies for a building project in the near future, the club discovered.

Seeing the need, the women petitioned for the park development and enlisted Donald Walker, landscape designer and husband of the club president, to draw up a master plan for the park development.

BEHIND PROJECT

Philanthropic chairman for the club is Mrs. Bud Lawn. Working with her on the project are Mrs. W. A. Pollock, building organizer, and Pollock, architectural designer working as a consultant. Ivar Luindeen, husband of a member and general building contractor, will advise.

Other persons working on the project include Mrs. John Galvin, ways and means chairman, and Mrs. Wendell J. Thompson publicity. Members of the philanthropic committee include Mmes. Donald Walker, club president, and James Bruno, Richard Champion and T.A. Blanke.

This annual picnic was attended by approximately 400 persons. Its main purpose was to encourage interested couples in adopting minority race children. The children available for adoption attended to get acquainted with and to play with.
