Johnny Catron Band to Appear

Popular Johnny Catron brings his big band to the Catalina Ballroom Aug. 1. Johnny takes over from maestro Eddy Howard, who will have occupied the Casino bandstand for a six-week stint. Russ Morgan and his fine music-makers follow Catron, coming to the picturesque Catalina Island nightspot on Aug. 21.

The Catron aggregation is rated one of the best dance bands in the nation today, but is particularly well known for its hundreds of carbon copy arrangements borrowed from the great dance orchestras of the thirties and forties.

One minute you're dancing happily to pure "Catron," then in rapid succession you'll be gliding smoothly around the floor in time to nostalgic tunes played in the grand style of Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Ray Noble, Guy Lombardo, Xavier Cugat, Jack Teagarden, Bunny Barrigan or Louis "Sachmo" Armstrong, to name but a few.

Best, most comfortable and most entertaining means of transportation to the Catalina Casino is to board the S. S. Catalina for the 22 mile crossing from Wilmington to Avalon Bay. Daily sailings of the Big White Ship of Romance are at 9:45 each morning. The romantic Moonlight Cruises, which continue until after

13 Torrance Men Gain MD Degrees

Fourteen Torrance residents were among nearly 2000 practicing osteopaths who received Doctor of Medicine degrees from the California College of Medicine in historic ceremonies last weekend in Los Angeles.

Believed to be the largest single doctorate class in medical history, osteopathic physicians throughout the state gathered at the Los Angeles medical school for the granting of M.D. degrees in a series of commencement services on Saturday, July 14 and Sunday, July 15.

This mass conferment of M.D. degrees marked the latest step taken toward the unification of California's doctors of medicine and doctors of osteopathy within the state.

California voters will have an opportunity to approve the unification of the two professions by casting a "yes" vote on Proposition No. 22 at the general election in November.

First M.D. degrees conferred by the California College of Medicine were bestowed last month on 80 graduating seniors having completed the four-year course of professional studies. Previously known as the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, the institution was designated as an accredited medical school early this year.

TORRANCE RESIDENTS

Among those receiving degrees last weekend were Drs. Clyde Joseph Barnes, Allan T. Brown, James Spencer Burrell, Theodore Charles Buzanis, Donald Guy Cortum, Duane Eugene Ewers, Hampton L. Fancher Jr., Gary Forrest Hathaway, Blaine L. Montgomery, Wyndham W. Mooring, Glenn M. Moss, Samuel J. Paltin, Frederick A. Stange and Charles Misao Usi, all of Torrance.

Storytelling Helps Children to Think

By ALAN TITELMAN

With the belief children should enact stories to stimulate their ability to think and reason, Mrs. Elsie Pestoff, Recreation Department storyteller, since 1957 has devoted her summers to reciting tales to children from pre-kindergarten age to 11-years-of-age.

"Children are able to bring out the morals in the story and relate them to their every day lives," she remarked. "They recognize these things."

The Boston-born storyteller, who stated that four stories can be acted out in an hour, uses puppets so the children will be better able to comprehend the story. Mrs. Pestoff is presently working on scenery which she is making from cardboard boxes.

LOVE FOR WORK
Demonstrating a love for her work and a lot of patience for the children who are her zealous listeners, she encourages them to respond by asking questions. She has over 250 books which provide a large reservoir of stories.

From fairy tales and cowboy and Indian stories to family adventures and nature stories, she is able to captivate her audience, especially the girls, who seem to be the most attentive listeners. The groups to which she relates the stories like to hear those dealing with action.

The genial woman recalled an incident to illustrate how enthusiastic the children get about the stories and the parts they act out. "We

The 1962 campaign for the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation in the county officially opened recently. Little Lisa Behr of Woodland Hills symbolized this cause as the 1962 National CF Poster Girl.

Last week county volunteers initiated their door-to-door campaign for funds to support the research sponsored by the National Foundation — research which is designed to lengthen the lives of the one in every 1000 babies born a CF victim, and someday soon to discover a cure for this disease of children.

At present only half of its victims, born with CF, survive to their fifth birthday. Because the cause of this disease is not yet known, it is not possible to predict which babies will be born with it; parents of CF children are healthy and normal.

Auditor Issues Filing Deadline

July 31 is the deadline for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and paying state unemployment taxes for the second quarter of 1962. W. P. Nebergall, auditor in charge for the State Department of Employment in Long Beach recently reminded employers.

Employers who fail to file wage reports and pay second quarter taxes on or before July 31, will reduce their chances of receiving a lower rate next year.

Nebergall pointed out that it is not possible to use payments made after July 31 in computing employer tax rates. In addition, penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline.

Employers needing assistance in preparing their returns may contact the audit office at 1315 Pine Ave., Long Beach, or by telephoning HEMlock 7-0171.
