Youth Employment Service Finds Teenagers Positions

"Put Youth On A Job," is the motto of the South Bay Youth Employment Service. Teenagers seeking employment as bus boys, stock boys, car washers, delivery boys, yard workers, typists, sales clerks, baby sitters, mother's helpers, or gas station attendants may contact the employment service at the YMCA Building at 58 11th St., Hermosa Beach, Monday through Friday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Both applicants and those who have jobs for these youths may call 376-8791 to make further arrangements.

Mmes. Eros Widrig and Rita Baglio are employed by the California State Employment Service. Mrs. Widrig handles the South Bay Youth Employment Service while Mrs. Baglio sees that things run smoothly in the entire South Bay, Torrance, Lomita, and Palos Verdes areas. Anticipated soon is the opening of another branch in Gardena to serve the youth of that area.

W. T. Bickers is the official representative of the Kiwanis Club. Jeannie Moody, member of the Redondo Beach Dianas, Junior Federated Women's Clubs, Marina District, is in charge of publicity for the group.

Help keep the youth of our community out of mischief by helping them to find worthwhile employment and worthy leisure time usage. Contact the South Bay Youth Employment Service today, said Mrs. Roger Gardeman.

Resident to Head Firm's Division

Dr. Charles M. Price, a Torrance man, has been appointed associate head of the Astroynamics Department of Aerospace Corporation's Systems Research and Planning Division. Eugene Levin, head of the Astroynamics Department, announced today. Dr. Price previously was section leader of the orbital mechanics section of that department.

Before joining Aerospace Corporation in 1961, Dr. Price supervised a group engaged in technical support of advanced design of aerospace vehicles at North American Aviation. The author of numerous technical publications, Dr. Price taught mathematics at the Illinois Institute of Technology and headed a group research team for the Institute for Air Weapons Research.

In 1950 he received his Ph.D. in mathematics from the University of Chicago where he earlier received his B.S. in mathematics and chemistry and his M.S. in mathematics. In 1955 he was leader of a numerical analysis study group of the Society for Industrial and Applied Mathematics and in 1957-58 served as chairman of the Society's Greater Los Angeles Section.

FIND OUT NOW IF YOU CAN ADD AIR CONDITIONING TO YOUR GAS FURNACE!!!

If your home has a forced air Gas furnace, you may already own half of a whole-house air conditioning system!

Remarkable, new units that add right on to existing Gas furnaces are now available.

Of course, not all homes can qualify. About one in five has a central furnace system adaptable to Gas air conditioning. Your home may be one of them.

What happens if your present Gas furnace is not suited to an add-on unit? You can replace it with a compact, year 'round Gas air conditioning system: one that both heats and cools. A variety of new models engineered for every type of installation is now available.

But whether you add to your Gas furnace or select a single, heating-cooling system, keep this in mind: Gas air conditioning is the finest you can own. It automatically drives out stale air, brings in fresh air, filters out dust, dirt, and pollen, wrings out excess humidity, then circulates sweet, clean air to every corner of the home.

You and your family can, at last, enjoy perfect indoor climate 365 days a year. You'll eat better, sleep better, feel better, and live better.

And because Gas air conditioning works without moving parts in the heating-cooling cycle, noise is cut to a minimum. A big source of wear and repair is eliminated. However, if adjustment or inspection is needed—it's yours free from Gas Company experts.

Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity to get the full story on Gas air conditioning. Mail this coupon now.
