

Junior Achievement Talks Set for City High Schools

Students at the three Torrance high schools will be among more than 45,000 at 85 public and parochial high schools in Southern California to hear about the American system of private enterprise at special Junior Achievement assemblies or similar programs this month, according to Clarence N. Parker, Jr., executive vice president. Junior Achievement is the national business program of economic education which teaches teenagers about free enterprise. The opportunities and advantages offered the youngsters by JA's unique learn-by-doing program will be presented by JA staff representatives. Students will be addressed by ranking executives of local business firms who will tell why businessmen are

College Adds Instructors To Evening Teaching Staff

Twenty new instructors were added to the evening college staff to accommodate the increased number of students, to instruct newly developed courses and to fill faculty vacancies for the fall semester, according to an announcement by Dr. Robert V. Bacon, assistant dean of evening division. Two instructors are returning to the applied technology staff. Pedro V. Aguirre will instruct a course in chemical technology 15, glass manipulation. Aguirre lives in Wilmington and for the last 20 years has been in charge of chemical glass repair for Union Oil Co. Jack E. Coler, who will instruct a number of classes in chemical technology, is a graduate of Coe College, Ia., and has been a chemist with Union Oil Co. since 1952. Six instructors are returning or have been added to the business education faculty. George L. Fisher, a realtor and appraiser, will instruct Finance 25, property management. Howard McCargar, who has a master's degree from the University of Southern California and many years of experience as district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific Co., will instruct Transportation I, survey of transportation. Thomas Graham, who has a MBA from UCLA, will instruct Accounting III, intermediate accounting class. ACCOUNTING James Worley of San Pedro, holder of a master's degree from Long Beach State College and supervisor in charge of contract administration for Todd Shipyards, will teach Accounting I, introductory accounting. ## Guess WHAT

-I don't wear glasses now!

Contact lenses have come a long way since they were first introduced to the human eye. Low—so comfortable, so undetectable—contact lenses are for just about anybody: the self-conscious teenager, hating to admit she needs glasses... the society miss who feels that conventional glasses detract from her youthful charm... the man or woman afflicted with forgetfulness who too often wears his regular glasses at times. Whatever your reason for being interested, come in and see at Science has done about contact lenses to make them wonderful to wear.

Richard F. Bernard, a new instructor in the social science division, completed his master's degree at USC and currently is teaching history at Narbonne High School. Bernard will instruct a second semester class in political and social history of the U. S., History 12.
Three new librarians will join the evening staff: Eugene F. Fischer, with a master's degree in library science from USC, is a library coordinator for the Los Angeles board of education; Barbara J. Deakin, who is the librarian at Hamilton High School, is currently completing graduate work at Immaculate Heart College; William J. Strange, librarian at Palos Verdes High School, has a master's degree in library science from Kansas State Teachers College.
Robert T. Tilley Jr., seaman apprentice, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT T. Tilley Sr., 21519 Budlong Ave., Torrance, completed two weeks of active duty training at the Naval Station, San Diego, in the latter part of August. The training provides members of the Naval Reserve with an opportunity to study skills needed for advancement to the rate of seaman. The training at the naval station simulates shipboard life as closely as possible.
