Group Meets To Plan Drive For Retarded

Regular monthly meeting of the Southwest Association for Retarded Children will be held Thursday at Columbia School, 4502 W. 186th St., Torrance.

The program, to begin at 7:30 p.m., will present facts of interest regarding total expansion of the unit's educational program.

Harold Ritz, president of the Southwest Association, said, "The public is asked to join us in the celebration of the National Retarded Children's Week Nov. 11 through Nov. 22."

The National Association for Retarded Children, of which the local unit is a member association, was founded in 1950 and has grown rapidly since. In the past five years, the number of member associations has doubled and now totals more than 1,000.

During the past year alone, added emphasis and national attention has been given the cause by the appointment by President Kennedy of a President's Panel on Mental Retardation.

"We expect in the near future to learn of the results of the panel's year-long exploration of the whole subject of Mental Retardation.

With this information, our nation can move forward through enlightened legislation, research and community action to fight this major problem. We rededicate our association and its membership to this end," Ritz said. Interested parties may contact Ritz at OS 9-3735.

TROUBLE WITH CURVES

Good drivers, says the Automobile Club of Southern California, reduce their rate of speed before having to negotiate a curve. Then they accelerate gradually to normal while coming out of the curve. Braking on a curve results in many problems — it makes steering more difficult, it lurches passengers about, and it increases the possibilities of skidding or rolling over.
